

Does K Want to 'Make Up' With Eisenhower?

By K. C. THALER LONDON (UPI)—Soviet diplomat, hinted today that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wants a reconciliation with President Eisenhower. They raised the possibility Khrushchev will make an indirect approach to set up a private meeting with Eisenhower during the UN session. This correspondent asked whether Khrushchev now felt he had gone too far in his personal attacks on Eisenhower at the Summit Conference in Paris last spring. "Mr. Khrushchev was very angry at the time," was the reply, implying that the Soviet premier now was ready to take another look at the situation. There were hints there might be another intriguing aspect of Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations—that he may make overtures for personal meetings with presidential candidates Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Senator John F. Kennedy. That apparently would depend on whether things go well for the Soviet premier after he arrives in New York on Monday. In any event, he is expected to avoid any action that could be interpreted as an attempt to influence the course of the U.S. presidential elections this fall. Meetings with Nixon and Kennedy would have to overcome some obstacles of geography. Khrushchev's movements have been restricted to Manhattan Island by the U.S. state department. But there appears to be some desire on the part of the Russians to get first-hand impressions of the two men who are running for the presidency. Recalling that Khrushchev referred to Eisenhower in strong language in Paris ("A thief caught red-handed in his theft"), the question was asked how the overture for a reconciliation would be put to the American president. "There are various ways in which it could be done," was the reply. The implication was that the Russians were not overly concerned about the method to be used and might even already have worked out the procedure. There have been indications for several days that Khrushchev was taking a soft line toward Eisenhower and today Tass news agency carried a message from Khrushchev's ship, Baltika, quoting the premier as predicting an era of "better times" in the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union. The Soviet leader made a significant move when he recently specifically exonerated Eisenhower from responsibility for the U-2 plane incident which he used to torpedo the summit conference in Paris last May. Khrushchev told U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson last week at a Kremlin cocktail party that he still believed Continued on Page 3

HOW FIVE YEARS EFFORT ENDED The $4.5 million racing car Bluebird II looked like this today after it had tipped over three times at 300 m.p.h. during a test run at the Bonneville Salt Flats. Donald Campbell, British speed king, was only slightly hurt and said he wants to make another attempt at the world record of 394 m.p.h.

'Bluebird' Wrecked Speed King Injured

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (Reuters) — British speed king Donald Campbell was injured today when his 4,250-horsepower Bluebird racing car cracked up during a trial run over the salt flats here. Observers at the scene said Campbell had been hurt critically, but police later reported his injuries were not as serious as at first thought. Campbell was taken to Tooele Hospital, 80 miles from the flats, in an ambulance with police escort. He had a severe gash over the left eye and could not reply to questions by policemen and officials. His wife, Tonia, was at the scene and rode to hospital by his side in the ambulance. On arrival at the hospital, Campbell walked from the ambulance. Peter Carr, the alternate driver for the 4,250-horsepower Bluebird, said Campbell recovered his speech when he came out of shock soon after getting into the ambulance. He said Campbell told him he did not know what had happened to the car except that it began spinning when he reached about 300 miles an hour and was still accelerating. Bluebird had made a run of 300 mph down the 10-mile course and 24 minutes later headed back toward the starting point. It had gone about three miles when it went into a massive spin in powdery salt. The car flipped three times, travelled about a quarter of a mile, then righted itself. But it had lost two wheels and the metal body was completely crumpled. Tommy Wisdom of the Bluebird crew said mournfully: "It's all over. The car's gone."

Atlin Win Sparks New CCF Hopes

Victory assured in northern Atlin, the CCF today set sights on winning three more seats in final counts next week to clean up B.C.'s election results. The CCF now has 16 seats, Social Credit 32, Liberals 4. Frank Calder, 45, became the only Indian member of the legislature today as returns from four late polls in Atlin gave him an 84-vote edge over Social Credit William Asseltine. Mr. Calder, who lost the seat to Mr. Asseltine in 1956, got a total of 334 votes; Mr. Asseltine 250; Conservative Charles J. Brown 119. ONLY 11 VOTERS One poll to come, at Ford's Cove, has only 11 registered voters. Now the CCF is eyeing Nanaimo, Comox and Yale, where on the basis of the uncounted absentee vote alone, their candidates have a chance of overtaking slim Social Credit leads. If the absentee votes—to be counted Sept. 24—don't clear the picture, recounts are expected. In Comox more than 1,000 absentee votes are possible. Social Crediter Dan Campbell has a lead of 116, with 5,801 votes to 5,685 for CCFer Fred Wood. In the 1956 election a total of 1,122 absentee votes appeared at the tail end of the counting. A similar total this year would throw the race wide open. LEAD OF 115 In Nanaimo, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood has a 112 lead. He got 4,475 votes to 4,363 for Colin Cameron of the CCF. In 1956 there were 318 absentee votes. It's estimated there will be 500 this year. Both these ridings are heavily populated with fishermen and loggers, and trends in Monday's polling showed their communities favored the CCF. Yale is the closest contest. With all polls in Social Crediter Irvine Corbett, a member of the last legislature, has a lead of only 37 votes. He's got 1,086 to 1,049 for CCFer Evan McDougall. Liberal John Collett isn't far behind with 945. In 1956 there were 270 absentee votes. In Atlin, Calder picked up his biggest gain from the Indian village of Aliyansh, where he got all 72 votes. He also won all five votes cast in Canyon City. Meanwhile, there is no word on how the vote went at the railway whistle-stop of Bennett. PRAYER FOR TODAY Creator-Father, Author and Lover of beauty, Whose superb handiwork appears in the heavens above and in every tree and flower and living thing on earth, help us to work with Thee to fashion our lives after the pattern of Thy supreme design in Jesus Christ, that we may please Thee and worship Thee in the beauty of holiness. Amen.

Lumumba Reported Fleeing Country

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Patrice Lumumba, one of the Congo's two rival premiers, is in flight, a report reaching here from Leopoldville said tonight.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief of staff, warned today he will arrest and expel Soviet and Czech Embassy members unless they get out of the country by noon Saturday.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Col. Joseph Mobutu consolidated his military rule of the Congo today, but the Soviet Embassy said it would ignore his statement that the Soviet and other Communist bloc diplomatic missions should leave.

An embassy spokesman said "We are not accredited to Col. Mobutu. We are officially accredited to the Congolese Republic and its chief of state Mr. Joseph Kasavubu." Mobutu told a news conference Wednesday night that the army was seizing power and "neutralizing" the activities of President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba until the end of the year. He added parliament also was being taken over. And he gave the Soviet, Czech and Continued on Page 3

GLASSCO ... heads commission

PM Names 3-Man Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker appointed a royal commission today on government operations "to promote economies and to recommend cuts in expenditures consistent with maintenance of essential services."

J. Grant Glasco of Toronto will be chairman.

Watson Sellar, 67-year-old retired auditor-general of Canada, and Eugene Therrien, 54-year-old Montreal insurance company executive and lawyer, will be the other members. Mr. Diefenbaker, making the announcement verbally following a cabinet meeting, said the commission will be asked to make interim reports on its examination with a final report in two years.

The commission will study all federal departments, Crown corporations, government agencies and boards.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will make an announcement Saturday morning on a commission on Canadian publications, which he had expected also to announce today.

POWER COMPANY HEAD

Mr. Glasco is a chartered accountant and executive vice-president and director of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited. He is 55.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the commission is charged with "tremendous responsibilities" to propose those changes in government operations that it considers will promote efficiency, economy and improved service in the dispatch of public business.

Purpose of the study will be to eliminate duplication and overlapping of services, to get rid of unnecessary and uneconomical operations, to promote efficiency and economy through decentralization of operations and administration, to improve departmental and agency management including methods of work and definitions of the extent of authority, and to make more effective use of budgeting and accounting procedures.

IMMEDIATE START

In addition, the purpose will be to improve efficiency and economy by altering relations between the government departments and agencies on one hand and treasury board and other central control and service agencies. Treasury board is a committee of senior cabinet ministers and civil service officials which examines proposed expenditures before parliament is asked for the money to undertake the work.

He said he expects the commission will begin work immediately and appealed to all Canadians, to business and professional organizations and to anyone with ideas of achieving the objects of the inquiry to prepare written submissions for the commission.

The prime minister stressed that the commission's powers do not extend to parliament. This provision is written into its terms of reference, set out in an order in council passed by the cabinet today.

HE TOLD THE WORLD

The legal notices in a Los Angeles newspaper Thursday were graced with a neat switch. Ray Ogden, auto salesman, ran an ad in capital letters announcing he was responsible for all the debts and obligations of his wife, Margaret, "a woman who has borne me two fine children and listened patiently to all my gripes for the past 21 years." B.C. Drowning

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A fisherman was believed drowned today when he fell from a boat in the choppy waters of Kamloops Lake near Copper Creek, 17 miles west of here. Police and skin divers were attempting to locate the body of the man, whose identity was not released.

TO PROTECT K, CASTRO

24-Hour Alert for N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP)—The city police department is going on a 24-hour alert to protect Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and other controversial foreign leaders when they convene next week for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly.

The 25,000-member force will be mobilized early Monday morning for emergency duty, with all days off cancelled and the basic work week 60 hours instead of 42.

Khrushchev, arriving Monday aboard the Russian ship Baltika, already is in for a harbor booby session by members of the Longshoremen's Union, who are hiring an excursion boat for the purpose.

Police said, however, no boat would be allowed within 200 feet of the Baltika.

Russian and American authorities are haggling over the cost of rental and repairs on city-owned pier 73, where the Soviet premier's ship will dock. Unofficial reports are that the bill will range from $15,000 to $30,000.

The pier has been termed "one of the oldest and most decrepit" on the New York waterfront.

CASTRO SEIZES CIGAR WORKS

HAVANA (Reuters) — The government Thursday night seized control of the rich tobacco industry, including the world-famous Cuban cigar factories.

The Fidel Castro regime "intervened" in 16 cigar factories, 14 cigar factories and 23 leaf tobacco trading firms.

DIEF PONDERS JAPAN VISIT

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said today he had given no consideration to a possible trip to Japan.

An invitation to the Canadian leader to visit that country, extended by former premier Nobusuke Kishi last spring, was renewed Thursday by visiting Japanese Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka.

Some observers believe Diefenbaker might make the trip late this year if there is no fall session of parliament.

TORONTO (UPI) — Philip Starks, 30, of Detroit, went berserk today and attempted to strangle himself in the city hall jail cells after being sentenced to 20 years in prison on a manslaughter charge.

ARRESTED in Havana Thursday, Mrs. Moskowitz Lennox, 26, a secretary at the U.S. Embassy there is being held by Castro's secret police. She was seized in a pre-dawn raid on her downtown apartment. (AP Wirephoto.)

FIDEL STANDS CHANCE OF LOSING HIS PLANE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro today faced the possibility of having his airplane seized by court order on his scheduled arrival Sunday for the UN sessions.

A $3 million jet-prop Bristol Britannia of Cubana Airlines was attached on its arrival Thursday under a suit brought by the Harris Advertising Co. of Miami which alleged the Cuban government owed a back bill of $237,000 and refused to pay.

The bearded Castro and his party were scheduled to fly here from Havana in one of the airline's chartered planes. He may change his plans since the attorney for the Harris Company announced he intended to seek a court order to seize that plane, too.

This afternoon he was reported to have been in a cordon around both the Soviet and Czech embassies. But there were no troops nor any signs of unusual activity outside or inside the embassies.

Armed Congolese soldiers shut off the parliament building this morning and prevented members of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate from entering to hold a session.

Kasavubu ordered the parliament suspended for two months two days ago. But after they were barred from the building this morning, knots of legislators gathered in a small park across the way and heatedly discussed their status. Some said they had been called to meet by Kasavubu, while others said they were trying to meet to hear a report on a mediation effort to get the President and Lumumba together over their political differences.

UNDER GUARD

Lumumba, who was saved by United Nations troops Thursday night from attempts by angry Congolese soldiers to kill him, was still in the city under guard today.

UN sources said he slipped away Thursday to a secret residence where he remained under the protection of Ghanaian troops of the UN forces and his own loyal gendarmes.

Lumumba owed his life to the UN force which he had tried to oust from the country. Ghanaian UN soldiers kept him safe in a second floor bedroom of their officers' mess at Camp Leopold Thursday while angry Baluba tribal members of the Congolese army howled for his head.

"Kobama, kobama" (kill, kill) they cried as the UN troops kept them at bay.

The Balubas clashed with other Congolese soldiers who supported Lumumba and only the presence of the UN troops kept the matter from getting completely out of hand.

The Ghanaian soldiers disarmed one man who tried to toss a hand grenade in Lumumba's direction and another who started up the stairs of the officers' mess with a Sten gun in his hands.

CASTRO BODYGUARDS MUST LEAVE GUNS AT HOME

Pistol-Packing Cubans Warned

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and his gun-toting bodyguards have been warned to leave their firearms at home when they come to New York next week for the United Nations General Assembly.

American officials said today they have advised the Cuban Embassy that Castro and his entourage will not be permitted to carry their customary weapons during the bearded Cuban leader's stay in this country.

The state department already had announced that Castro would be confined to Manhattan Island. He has been placed under the same restrictions as those imposed on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the Hungarian and Albanian Communist leaders.

They Will Comply

American officials advised the Cuban Embassy to advise Havana that foreigners, bodyguards or not, were not permitted to carry arms in the United States. Assurances have been received that the advice will be taken, the officials said.

The U.S. officials informed the Cubans that the American government, under the UN headquarters agreement, was responsible for the safety of Castro and would take every precaution to guard him while he was in New York.

Remon Navarro Jailed

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Ramon Navarro, the screen's original Ben Hur, has been sentenced to five days in jail for drunken driving. The veteran actor, now 61, also was fined $250 Thursday after a jury brought in a guilty verdict.

So far as could be learned, no similar warning was given the Russians regarding Khrushchev's bodyguards. Officials said the Russians know the U.S. law.

These officials have a suspicion that some of Khrushchev's bodyguards on his U.S. tour a year ago may have had small guns secreted on their persons. But if any of the Russians carried weapons, they did it so discreetly that the question never arose. They were never searched.

The state department apparently felt that the more flamboyant President Tito, Hungarian boyant Latin Americans were another matter.

Public pistol-toting has been a trademark of Castro and his State department security associates. The habit provoked chief Elmer Hipsley is in a diplomatic incident at the charge of directing this group, Organization of American States conference in San Jose, Costa Rica, last month.

Costa Rica Acted

Costa Rica authorities disarmed at least 10 Fidelista delegates who arrived Aug. 14 and 15 wearing .45-calibre pistols.

About 100 federal security officers from various branches of the government have been gathered in New York to help guard Khrushchev, Castro, United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Yugoslav President Tito, Hungarian Communist Chief Janos Kadar and other controversial figures who still attend the UN session.

Then you feel better—rest better, work better. You can depend on Dadd's Kidney Pills.

SORRY, NO VACANCY

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says United Nations-bound Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is having trouble finding a place to stay here. The Times says Cuban sources reported most hotels have told the Castro party they had no vacancies.

The Tall Girl

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many parents write wanting to know what to do for a girl who looks now as if she were going to be six feet tall. "I was just reading that such a girl might be helped by the giving of estrogens (ovarian hormones) because these drugs tend to stop the growth of the long bones. The only difficulty with this is that the giving of ovarian hormone might upset the girl's menstrual rhythm. Hence, if the family physician cares to try giving the hormone, he must watch the effects, and must stop giving the drug if it begins to produce undesirable effects."

Alvarez

Today, one reads in so many places that one of the important things in living is to get rid of inhibitions. Even as parents care for their small children they are full of fear that they may interfere with their liberty. The parents have been profoundly influenced by the theories that many writers have been handing out for years. As some psychiatrists are beginning to say, evidently these theories have done mainly harm because we have much more juvenile lawlessness than we ever had before, and our teachers in schools are greatly handicapped by the children's lack of any respect for authority.

Interestingly, one of the wisest psychiatrists that this continent ever developed was Dr. Abraham Myerson. I enjoy his writings so much that every so often I read one or two of his books. In one of them, "The Foundations of Personality" (1921), Myerson tells the remarkable story of a patient of his, a puritanically-bred young woman who fled from her restrictions and inhibitions in old New England and joined a "free love" colony in upper New York. After two years, she left, and came back home. As she told Dr. Myerson, what she had found was not freedom. "You found myself bound to your desires, a slave to every wish. It grew awfully tiresome; and besides, it brought so many complications."

LONDON LETTER

Olivier—Broken-Down Comic

LONDON—For three reasons, there is more than ordinary interest in the release of Sir Laurence Olivier's new film, The Entertainer.

First, it is the screen version of the play in which he had such a personal triumph in the west end a couple of years ago; the second play of the controversial John Osborne. Now folks who didn't have the chance to see him doing it on the stage have the opportunity to see what all the enthusiasm was about.

Second, the film was supposed to be released last April but a variety of things have held it up, including censorship. The makers wanted a general release but the censor insisted on Adults Only. Any movie that runs into censor trouble of course becomes additionally intriguing to the public.

And third playing the fem lead opposite Olivier is Joan Plowright, the girl whom in private life he now prefers around the house to Vivien Leigh. Must have a look and see what she's like!

On the first count, the story of Archie Rice, broken down vaudeville comic, is a

"Sometimes you loved where you weren't loved—and vice versa. Jealousy was there—oh so much of it—and pleasure disappeared after awhile. It wasn't conscience—I still believe that right and wrong are arbitrary matters—but I found myself envying people who had some guide, some belief, some restrictions in themselves. For it seemed to me they were more free than I!"

Rather against the crazy modern idea that all babies are born exactly alike, and are different in adult life only because of differences in environment is Myerson's remark that "Babies have a variability in desire and satisfaction quite as much as do their elders." As I remarked recently, 10 years ago (unlike) twin boys were born to the able and thoughtful wife of a university teacher. She noted from the first few weeks that one twin was so aggressive and impatient that he howled loudly if his bottle was a few minutes late in coming while his brother was easy-going and waited patiently. Today they still have these same different temperaments.

Women write asking where they can find a doctor so skilled that he can take weight off a certain part of the body—such as the breasts or the abdomen or the upper arms or the ankles or the buttocks—or can put it on, particularly in the breasts or in the neck. Sadly I have to tell such a woman that if I could take weight off and put it on in spots, as desired by women, within a year I would be a millionaire. I never have heard of any way of moving fat around in this highly-to-be-desired way.

Millions of deaf people who have deaf relatives do not have to ask me if deafness is hereditary. They know only too well that deafness runs in their family. Usually I think these people inherit a tendency to a disease called otosclerosis, which means a thickening and hardening of the bone immediately about the ear cavities. Unfortunately, I know of no procedure or medicine which will slow up or block the development of this trouble. Fortunately, today, for many of these people there is an operation and for others there are electronic hearing aids.

Guilty Plea Urged As Divorce Grounds

TORONTO (CP)—Lawyer Joseph Sedgwick proposed Thursday that divorce laws be changed so that the guilty party would simply admit adultery and have the court accept the plea rather than force the person to prove guilt.

Mr. Sedgwick, in a letter to The Star, said that only in divorce cases does the plaintiff have to go on trial to prove what no one has disputed. Several other Toronto lawyers favored the proposal but Gerard Beaudoin was opposed. In a criminal case, he said, no one would plead guilty to a crime he did not commit. Elliot Pepper, Queen's proctor, said Thursday night the suggestions by Mr. Sedgwick are impractical.

Mr. Pepper, appointed by Attorney-General Roberts to review Ontario divorce proceedings, said:

"The fabrication of two kinds; first between the co-respondent and the defendant; then by the defendant when he or she appears in court."

"Mr. Sedgwick's suggestion gets rid of only one false story. Those seeking a divorce are still making a mockery out of the courts. It would not cure the problem."

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

New Grass Needs Sharp Mower

No sooner has the seed germinated on the new lawn than the gardener begins to wonder how long before the first cut should be made.

The period that must elapse is not determined by the calendar but by the amount of growth made by the grass plants themselves.

It must be remembered that different grasses have different germinating periods and different growth rates. In a lawn grass mixture of Blue Grass, Fescue and Red Top, the Red Top will germinate in five days, the Fescue in 14, and the Blue Grass, which will predominate in the permanent lawn, in about 25 days.

The first cut can be made when the fastest-growing variety has reached the height of three inches, providing the slowest to germinate is already through the soil and not likely to be damaged by footprints and mower wheels.

The grass scythe is the best tool for the first cuts, but very few gardeners can handle this implement. The next best is the reel-type hand mower, or push mower, which should be used until a solid turf has been established.

The mower must be razor sharp and precision set or it will pull the young grass plants right out of the soil instead of clipping the tops.

Ninety per cent of the growth of plants is dependent on the action of light on the leaves, so that too-much leaf removal results in a check in growth, a weakened plant, and the beginning of lawn troubles.

The height of the cutting bar should be adjusted to leave from one and one-half to two inches of plant after the cut.

has been made, and the grass catcher used so that the clippings do not rot among the young grass roots.

Take time when making this first cut. Do it slowly and thoroughly, keeping the mower reel revolving at a steady speed from one end of the lawn to the other. Do not use short thrusts and jabs. Walk at a slow, even pace, and give the mower time to do a good job.

No Tax Cut for Expensive Car

OTTAWA (CP)—It's not cricket to buy an expensive car in order to reduce income tax payments.

That is the gist of a judgment by R. S. W. Fordham of the income tax appeal board made public today.

He said it is apparent that

Peter F. Niessen, president of a small Calgary home-repairing firm, Inter City Construction Company, bought a Cadillac for the main purpose of getting larger tax-free depreciation allowances on the car.

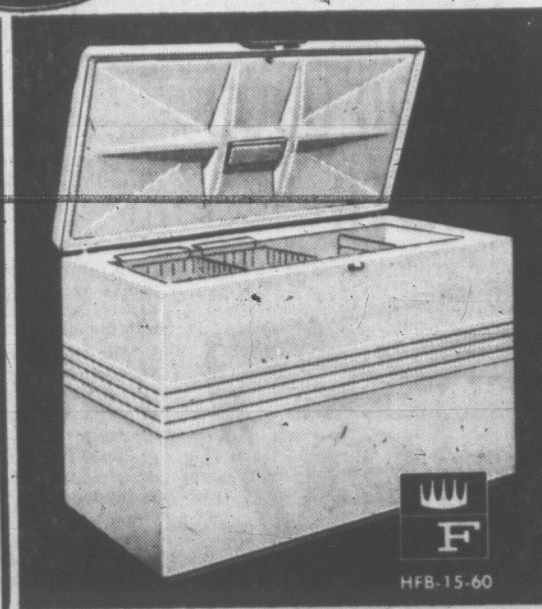

Mr. Niessen had appealed against the revenue department's rejection of his claim for depreciation allowances on his car totalling $4,631 in the three years 1956-58.

Mr. Fordham said Mr. Niessen testified frankly that he bought the expensive car on the advice of an auditor.

Gang-Style Murder In Latest Crime Wave

MONTREAL (CP)—A gang-land-style murder has been added to the series of bank holdups, hijackings and burglaries that has made up the latest Montreal area crime wave.

Internal violence rumbled in the underworld early today with the discovery of the body of a man at the rear of an east-end cabaret.

Tentatively identified as 28-year-old Frank Ouellette, whom police described as a known underworld figure, he had been shot through the back of the head.

Thefts of various natures have netted criminals more than $110,000 this week.

More than half the loot was stolen Thursday in a holdup and a hijacking and police braced themselves for more action today, often the biggest day of the week for holdups.

The biggest raid occurred Thursday when two men held up a University of Montreal delivery truck driver and escaped with $6,014 in cash and $32,900 in cheques.

FORCED INTO CURB

Driver, Jean Fournel, who was taking the cash and cheques to a bank in the north-central part of the city, said a car pulled across the path of his truck forcing him into the curb.

"The bandit knocked on the window of the truck with the butt of his revolver, screaming at me to open the door."

"When I opened the door he grabbed the satchel and ordered me to hand over the keys to the truck."

"He warned me not to follow him."

The man escaped in an accomplice's car parked nearby. The money came from registration fees of about 400 students.

Earlier Thursday, the Wellington Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada in southwest Montreal was held up.

Two suspects were arrested following the holdup and police recovered at least $13,000 in bills, found in the suspects' car.

FAILS—Long-distance swimmer Florence Chadwick, 42, of San Diego, Calif., abandoned her attempt today to swim the Irish Sea. After 2½ hours of battling high winds and freezing cold Miss Chadwick gave up her attempt to conquer the 21-mile channel between Northern Island and Scotland. She failed on a previous try three years ago. Miss Chadwick failed in an attempt to swim from Victoria to Port Angeles in 1954.

Sailors Found Safe, 15 Days in Open Boat

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—Three sailors missing since Sept. 1 in the stormy north Pacific in an 18-foot open boat have been found alive and well, the navy announced Thursday.

The enlisted men, attached to the Kodiak naval station, apparently drifted helplessly for two weeks after their converted whaleboat broke down.

The navy said they were spotted late Wednesday by a coast guard plane on the shore at Cape Ch'niak, 15 miles southeast of here. A ground party which reached them radioed the men were tired and hungry but otherwise all right.

The three set out 15 days ago in the small boat to hunt elk on Afognak Island, 30 miles away.

A navy spokesman said their 40-horsepower engine and 10-horsepower auxiliary outboard apparently "conked out" soon after they left. They drifted 20 to 30 miles south before reaching shore.

They were found just as an intensive four-day search of 16,000 miles of sea and coast line had been ordered suspended. Their wives and immediate families all live here.

Judicial Probe Urged Into Fishboat Sinking

VANCOUVER (CP)—The In-measures, even quarter measure-dependent United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union has asked the federal transport department to stage a full judicial inquiry into the sinking of the fishboat Unimak with loss of four lives here July 22.

The request was made Thursday night as the union considered Transport Minister Hees' proposal for a Canadian coast guard service and then condemned it as "half"

Great Lakes Seamen Set For Strike

MONTREAL (CP)—Hal C. Banks, Canadian director of the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.), said today the stage has been set for a strike of seamen on the Great Lakes.

He said the seamen have voted 5 to 1 in favor of rejecting the recommendations of a conciliation board dealing with a dispute with the Association of Lake Carriers. Members of the association operate almost 100 ships on the Great Lakes.

The SIU has asked for an immediate 10 per cent increase in salary and the reduction of the work week to 40 from 44 hours. The association countered with an offer of a 10 per cent increase over a three-year period.

A federal conciliation board recommended a 12 per cent increase over a three-year period provided the SIU drop the demand for a 40-hour week.

'Split From Stem to Stern'

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—The captain and five crew members of the Greek-owned ore-carrier - Ithika - remained aboard the wrecked ship as the rest of the 23-member crew was evacuated Thursday.

Capt. P. F. Ruel of Quebec City and five others will stay aboard the 1,500-ton vessel until the owner, a Mr. Glykis, and other officials arrive Saturday to survey the damage.

The ship, rudderless and missing both anchors, ran aground early Wednesday at Bird's Cove, 500 yards from shore and 12 miles east of this northern port, 610 miles north of Winnipeg.

MAY TRY SALVAGE JOB

An attempt probably will be made to salvage the cargo of 360 tons of supplies for the northern affairs department and Hudson's Bay Company posts at Rankin Inlet. The men were evacuated without trouble on a barge from the government ice-breaker Sir William Alexander.

The ship left Churchill Tuesday and was swept up in a gale late that night. The pounding water, whipped up by 80-mile-an-hour winds, damaged the rudder beyond repair, then snapped both anchor cables and set the vessel adrift.

Eugene Chenette of Montreal, second engineer on the vessel and a veteran of 40 years on the seas, said the ship is a total loss. "She's split from stem to stern, right through the centre," he said.

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Kato Ikeda was almost swept off his feet late Thursday during a brawl between police and anti-government demonstrators.

It was the third time in a week the 60-year-old conservative leader, now touring the nation in preparation for parliamentary elections, has had brushes with demonstrators.

Savings Lost on Race 'Tip'

EDMONTON (CP)—A former DEW line radio technician arrived here from Montreal this week to swear out warrants for the arrest of two men he claims took his life savings with a "hot tip on the races" pitch two years ago.

Wladimir Nabylowicz, 55, says he brought $12,000 from the DEW line to Victoria, B.C., during the summer of 1958 and there met two men who called themselves C. L. Henry and

G. Stanley Mueller, with whom he came to Edmonton. Police believe the names are fictitious.

Nabylowicz says the two men operated from an Edmonton hotel room, claiming to be prominent horsemen and displaying large amounts of money as race winnings. He was encouraged to invest in their "sure-fire" scheme and says he gave them $12,000.

The next-day the men said something had gone wrong, but they would return the money later. They gave Nabylowicz $150 to return to Montreal and he hasn't heard from them since. A friend who learned of the loss reported the incident to Montreal police who notified Edmonton city police.

Police departments throughout Canada have been alerted to watch for the suspects.

PRINCESS, COUNTESS, DUKE KILLED

PIACENZA, Italy (AP)—A princess, a countess and a duke were killed in a car accident Thursday after they left a wedding attended by some of Europe's wealthiest royalty and nobility.

One of the victims was Princess Marina Torlonia Slater, 44, sister of Prince Alessandro Torlonia of Rome.

A servant at the Torlonia Palace in Rome said Princess Marina was the wife of an American who lived in New York. She and many members of the family had come here for the wedding that united Marcalfonso Torlonia and Orsetta Caracciolo, member of another famed Italian family.

Two others killed in the accident were identified as Duke Raffaele Canevaro, 47, of Galluzzo, and the Countess Eleanor Terry, widow of Admiral Camperio.

City Treasurer Lured to East

Victoria will lose its popular city comptroller-treasurer to Canada's fifth largest city, it appeared today.

Dennis Young, who also is acting city manager, has been recommended by Hamilton board of control as the new city treasurer and commissioner of finance for the industrial centre of 237,000 persons.

Ratification by Hamilton city council would make the appointment effective Oct. 24. Confirmation is expected as a matter of course because the board of control is the executive committee of council.

Mr. Young, 37, who has lived on Vancouver Island all his life except for overseas duty as a fighter pilot during the Second World War, said he applied for the position "because it is more challenging."

A chartered accountant, he joined the city staff in 1950.

"I am very sorry to see him go," said Ald. Arthur Dowell, chairman of finance committee. "It will be a great loss. I can't speak too highly of him."

"Mr. Young is a hard and conscientious worker. We are losing one of the most invaluable employees we have in the city—he is very bright and he will go places."

All-Out Cuba Drive To Stamp Out Rebels

HAVANA (UPI) — Army troops were reported engaged Thursday in a major field campaign to wipe out nests of armed rebel resistance scattered throughout central Cuba.

First official confirmation of fighting in the Sierra de Escambray region of Las Villas province came in an announcement of the death of army lieutenant Obdulio Morales Torres in Santa Clara.

The government-controlled press said he died "from gunshot wounds suffered in military operations being carried out in the Sierra de Escambray." Santa Clara is the capital city of the province.

An estimated 2,000 troops were reported concentrated at La Campana, in the Sierra under the direction or supervision of two of Premier Fidel Castro's top guerrilla warfare experts.

THESE HATS DIDN'T FIT

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — After frantic telegrams to the manufacturer, boxes of campaign buttons and hats ordered months ago for Senator John F. Kennedy's tour arrived Thursday hours before he did.

Democratic party officials opened the first box and found it contained hats labelled "Vote for Richard M. Nixon for President."

Great Rocket Finally Finds Game Too Fast

MONTREAL (CP)—Maurice Rocket Richard, the man who scored more goals and gave hockey fans more thrills than any other player in history, has finally retired.

Speaking first in his native French and then in the English he painfully acquired during his "18 wonderful years" in the National Hockey League, Richard said Thursday night:

"For two years I have thought more about retirement than anything else and it was difficult to come to this decision."

The 39-year-old right wing himself told a reporter earlier this week: "I guess I finally realized this week the game is getting too fast for me. I would have had to take off a lot of weight in order to play this season and that is not so easy to do at my age."

"Perhaps I can do as much for the club off the ice as in the lineup," said Montreal Canadiens' good-will ambassador

Thursday night. "There may never be another like him," said Frank Selke, Canadiens managing director.

The NHL books list 17 records for Richard. In 978 regular-season games he scored 544 goals, including playoffs he had 625.

Richard, fiery, intensely competitive, but basically shy and withdrawn, reached his greatest heights when the stakes were highest.

The record books bear this out: In 133 playoff games he scored a record 82 goals, in one nine-game series he scored 12 times and in one single playoff game he scored all five goals that beat Toronto Maple Leafs.

During his career there were 82 games in which his goal was the winner.

MAURICE RICHARD

STARTING GATE BOTHERS ...

Wait Until He Gets Used to Bells

By DOUG PEDEN

If handsome is as handsome does, a young fellow by the name of Severance should do right well in this part of the world—once he gets accustomed to gates and bells.

Severance is a good-looking Irish colt who was brought out from Ireland four months ago by Don Carley, the Victoria horseman who raised and developed the fine Major Turley.

The four-year-old grey is slated to trot out in front of Victoria fans for the first time Saturday, when he goes against a field of sharp sprinters in the Inaugural Handicap, feature event of "getaway day" at Sandown Park.

Severance is the kind of runner that seems certain to attract the attention of a lot of punters, especially those who "like to look at the horses" before plunging down their bucks at the mutual window.

By any standards, he's a handsome horse and as pretty a runner as you could hope to see. As Carley says, "He's a true Irish horse. He is made like a real horse."

He's got class in both appearance and pedigree. His sire is the noted Irish stallion, Grey Sovereign, one of Britain's leading sires this season, and Severance is out of Top Standard, who was sired by Blue Peter, winner of the 1947 Epsom Derby.

Severance has a real turn of speed and Carley believes that "with any breaks he'll be a hard horse to beat" in the Inaugural.

But, although he got home in front at times this summer at Vancouver, Severance has not been exactly consistent since joining the Carley stable. Accustomed to more felloek space and less confusion in the British method of starting with a tape strung across the track, the youngster is sometimes slow in getting away from the starting gate.

"He still isn't used to the bell," says his owner-trainer, who has great hopes for the import, "and at the start he's liable to look around to see where the noise comes from."

Carley, and those who plunk down their money on his grey colt, will be hoping Severance doesn't spend too much time looking when they flip open the gates for Saturday's six-furlong feature at Sandown. If he gets a fast start, he'll be tough to catch.

Among the other horses due to start in the Inaugural are Ladner Beauty, Hemet Star, Salado, Miss Keith, Little Shay, Naru and Foxie Luce.

Eight races are scheduled for the opening of the 14-day meeting at the Sydney track.

There will be no racing Monday or Tuesday, with the second day of the 14 days scheduled for Wednesday. Post time will be 1.45 each day with seven races on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays and eight on each of the four Saturdays. The meet will wind up Thanksgiving Day Monday, Oct. 10, with eight races. (Handicap on page 2.)

Paid More Than $2,500 in Fines

Frequently moody and tactful during his best years, Richard's temper often took command. During his career he paid a total of more than $2,500 to the league in fines.

But the worst incident seemed to change him. Near the close of the 1954-55 season he was suspended for the last three regular games and the playoffs for striking an official.

It cost him one of the few honors he never won—the league scoring title compiled from both goals and assists—and caused one of the most shameful episodes in NHL history.

Montreal fans—and not a few hoodlums—crowded the Montreal Forum for the first home game after the suspension was announced by league president Clarence Campbell.

It started as a demonstration against Campbell and boiled over into a full-fledged riot during which windows were smashed, street cars overturned and 27 persons were arrested.

It is still remembered as "the Richard riot."

But it seemed to mellow the Rocket. He began to accept invitations to speak in places as far from his native Montreal as Vancouver and reporters who had tried for years to get close to him began to find him affable and diplomatic.

His last three seasons were painful ones.

In 1957-58 he played only 28 games before suffering a nearly severed Achilles tendon but in the playoffs he exploded for 11 goals to become the first man to score more than 10 goals in a playoff series twice.

They'll Save No. 9 for Rocket's Boy

In 1958-59 he missed 28 games but still scored 17 goals and last season in only 51 games he almost reached the 20-mark with 19 goals. Three more were disallowed.

Once somebody asked former New York Ranger coach Phil Watson if he would try to get Richard if Canadiens dropped him.

"Sure," said Watson. "I'd put him in a glass case in Madison Square Garden and tell people to come and look at the greatest hockey player who ever lived."

From now on Richard will be a sort of ambassador-at-large, speaking at banquets and giving special clinics for youngsters.

Richard has six "young ones" himself and is a public relations man for a brewery, owner of a natural gas appliances store and last year he opened a tavern—called the "No. 9" after his sweater number.

The number will be kept in the Richard family.

Selke said Thursday night that if the Rocket was agreeable, No. 9 would be put aside until one of Maurice's sons could wear it in trying out for the Canadiens.

"I'd like that," replied the Rocket.

Donna Needed Strong Rally To Beat Susie

TORONTO (CP)—The women's singles event at the Canadian tennis championships today turned into an international battle between representatives of the United States and Canada.

Donna Floyd of Williamsburg, Va., ranked 11th in the U.S. and first in this tournament, will fight it out with Canada's No. 2 player, Ann Barclay of Vancouver, in the final.

The possibility of an all-Canadian final, or at least a Canadian finalist, developed in men's singles when Bob Bedard of Lennoxville, Que., whipped New Zealand's best player, New Zealand's best player, New Zealand's best player.

Miss Floyd, 20, Thursday fashioned a come-from-behind victory over Canada's best, Susan Butt of Victoria, in what for the first set looked like an upset.

Down 4-0, Miss Butt took three games in a row and, breaking her opponent's service three times, took the set, 7-5.

However, Miss Floyd, who was good enough to reach the semi-finals of the U.S. national championships this month, rallied strongly to take the next two sets and the match, 6-1, 6-0.

SHINING ACTOR Ann Barclay was the shining light of the day for Canada. Playing a forceful game and plugging her backhand accurately down the line, she routed little Barbara Benigni of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Barclay, who rears back and hits her serve like a man, never let her opponent, ranked 18th in the U.S., get set, chasing her back and forth with pinpoint base-line drives.

Bedard, seeded fourth in this tournament at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club, looked like a champion, defeating the New Zealand ace, 6-3, 6-4, in a match that saw seven service breaks.

Play in women's doubles continued with Miss Floyd and Belmar Gunderson of Lake Wales, Fla., and Miss Butt and Benita Senn of Toronto reaching the quarter-finals.

Cricket Cancelled Plans to stage a cricket match at Beacon Hill Park Saturday between the Winnipeg RCAF side and a Victoria team have been cancelled.

The almanac was unable to make the trip west because of service commitments and there will be no activity on local cricket pitches this weekend.

Hanna Cup Golf Mrs. I. Plaxton and Mrs. F. Groome will be defending the Hanna Cup Sunday in the annual four-ball event at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

Starting times: 11 a.m.—Plaxton and Groome, Cann and Dye, 11.30—Holland and MacPherson, Fry and Wood, 11.45—Peterson and Saunders, Kicketts and Fletcher, 12.15—Carroll and Wakely, Smith and MacMillan, 12.30—Richie and Wilson, Stock and Bryan, 1.00—Fletcher and Paulson, Kelly and Jefferson, 1.15—Warawa and McRoberts, Roberts and MacPherson.

Gomez Sets Mark TORONTO (CP)—Avelino Gomez, the 31-year-old Cuban saddle star, established an all-time seasonal high in jockey victories when he rode his 227th and 228th winners before a crowd of 7,198 at Old Woodbine racetrack Thursday.

Gomez, riding regularly in Canada, with the exception of 1958, since 1955, owned the former best of 227 wins, set in 1957.

Life Suspension TORONTO (CP)—Soccer player Joe Pellegrini was suspended for life Tuesday night by the Toronto and District Soccer Association for striking referee Klaus Mehner during a match Aug. 28.

Pellegrini's club, Calabria, also was banned from the association until 1962 for aiding and abetting the incident.

Wins Again COLOGNE, Germany (CP)—Armin Hary, 100-metre gold medal winner at the Rome Olympics, won the 100-metre dash in 10.3 Wednesday night at an international track and field meet here.

Hary shares the world 100-metre record of 10 seconds with Harry Jerome, of Vancouver.

Durable Veteran of the Seattle Ramblers

Seattle Ramblers, driving full-back Don Larkin is expected to prove tough to stop for Victoria Drakes at Macdonald Park Saturday.

Hard runner and good blocker, Larkin is former Washington State College star. Football clash between Drakes and Seattle club starts at 2.30 p.m.

Drakes Show Debit in Tackle Spots News from the Victoria Drakes is both good and bad as the squad prepares for exhibition football game Saturday at 2.30 p.m. against Seattle Ramblers.

When the locals start at Macdonald Park they will again have the services of fullback Ken Higgs to boost an attack directed by Chuck Weeks in the quarterback slot.

On the debit side of the ledger, however, is coach Jack Patrick's list of injured tackles. FOOT FRACTURE Pat O'Neil will be out for two weeks with a hairline fracture of the right foot, Brian Gingell may play with his bruised hip and Joe Kurylo could sit this one out with bruised ribs.

In addition to the appearance of all-star Higgs coach Patrick's offensive backfield will be bolstered by Leroy Bond, George Wilson and Don Hendry, who all saw only defensive action against Vancouver Grizzlies last weekend.

Drakes will go into the contest with 27-10, 38-0 and 33-7 defeats from the Ramblers in exhibition games over the past two years.

Athletics for Sale KANSAS CITY (AP)—Negotiations for the sale of Kansas City Athletics to a Kansas City investment group began Wednesday. Byron Spencer, lawyer for the group, said it has passed the $2,000,000 mark in pledges and is aiming at $3,000,000. Asking price of the American Baseball League club was not disclosed.

GETS THREE MORE GOALS

Davis Could Use a Bit of Help

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—If Whitby Red Wings hope to give the East the Minto Cup for a fourth consecutive year, someone will have to give Terry Davis a hand in the scoring.

New Westminster Salmonbellies snatched a 3-1 lead in games in the best-of-seven Canadian junior lacrosse final series here Thursday night with an easy 8-4 victory over Whitby.

But despite the trend in play Davis was the only player on the floor to get more than a goal. He finished with three, bringing to 12 his total so far in the series. Bryan Gibson added the other for Whitby.

Eight men scored singletons for Salmonbellies— forwards Charlie Saunders, Doug Willson, Mike Gates, Keith Jackson and Barry Brownlee and defencemen Bob Bateman, Gord Stidolph and Wayne Shuttlesworth.

Salmonbellies, Minto Cup finalists for the second straight year, are seeking their first for a New Westminster team since the Salmonacs won it in 1953.

The last western champions were the Vancouver PNE Indians in 1956. Brampton Excelsiors were winners the last three seasons.

"That was the big one," said happy Salmonbellies' coach Harry Preston. "I think we'll be up for tonight's game too." Bev Groves, Whitby coach, was unhappy. "We played well enough to win but just didn't have it around the goal. I'm also a bit disappointed with the referees. This cost us last night because usually our best players were involved."

Two Red Wing players have caught the fancy of the fans, Davis and netminder Bob McCready.

"He's a dandy," said Preston. "It's a good thing he isn't any bigger or he'd be giving us a lot more trouble. He is the only Red Wing player we keep a sharp eye on."

In the series Davis has 15 points, second only to lanky Mike Gates of Salmonbellies. Surprisingly, the wandering McCready is third high scorer for Whitby in the series with six assists—all on long clearing passes.

The agile netminder continually leaves the net to get into the offence, especially when Whitby has a manpower advantage.

DUNCAN ANGLER LANDS BIG COHO AT COWICHAN

Veteran anglers believe the main run of coho is about two weeks away at Cowichan Bay, but you couldn't tell it from the catches.

Mrs. Winni Stark, 238 First Street in Duncan, reeled in one of the biggest silvers ever taken in the bay Thursday morning, a 24-pound, 13-ounce that grabbed a lure at about 6.30.

Just six pounds, three ounces under the world-record coho caught at Cowichan Bay in 1947 by Mrs. Lee Hallberg of Victoria, the lunker was only one of a number of good-sized coho taken recently.

There were "several" between 10 and 14 pounds landed last week, and there have been two over 17 during the last three weeks. Cowichan anglers are predicting one of the best runs in several years.

SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

Prospects Good For Deer Hunters

Vancouver Island deer hunters, who open a new season Saturday, got good news—and a warning—from provincial game authorities today.

Game officials are cautious in their predictions at the best of times but both biologist John Bandy and Inspector Bob Sinclair were optimistic about hunters' chances this year.

Sinclair stated that "from all reports the whole Island should enjoy a good year. It could go better than last year and it was pretty good then. "Grouse hunters have reported seeing lots of deer wherever they were; it should be good all over."

ADDS WARNING But he added a warning with the optimism. "We'd like to stress that we're going all-out to prevent hunting accidents this year," he said, "and that if any person is caught carrying a loaded gun in his car we'll ask for the maximum fine."

That amounts to $300 according to provincial statutes. Bandy, regional game biologist at Nanaimo said that "the deer situation looks as good as it has for many years; the deer population is up all over the Island."

AREAS MAY BE CLOSED Hunters were reminded, though, that due to the fire hazard some areas may be closed. Northwest Bay, usually an excellent area for deer, may fall into this category, although it had not been declared out of bounds this morning.

But the Muir Creek area was closed by the Elder Logging Co. Thursday night because of the hazard.

Bob Boal, chairman of the access committee of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association, indicated that it probably would be reopened to club members next weekend.

Army Rifleman Wins First-Day Aggregate Lieut. Henry Pankratz of the PPCLI claimed top aggregate honors in the first day of shooting in the Pacific Command Rifle Association championships at Healy's Range Thursday.

Lieut. Pankratz shot 186 of a possible 200, including a perfect 60 in winning the snap-shooting event.

Winner of the first match was WO Smoky Green of PPCLI with a '50, one point better than Able Seaman Bob King of HMCS St. Therese, who was the top tyro with 49.

Leading Seaman Bob McCallum of HMCS Fraser won the second match with a 48, one point better than Pvt. J. Matthews of PPCLI.

Green shot honors in the snap-shooting match were won by Able Seaman Bob Loway of St. Therese with a 40.

Pvt. H. Pearson and Seaman A. Johnson of HMCS Jonquiere led the fourth shoot with 48 and 44 respectively.

Shooting continues until Sunday.

Irish Outwit Witch Doctor, Save 73 Trapped Belgians

By ADRIAN PORTER
MANONO (AP) — United Nations troops from Ireland matched wits against an African witch doctor today in an attempt to bring peace to this terror-ridden mining centre in secessionist Katanga province. The Irish appeared to be winning. Primitively armed Baluba tribesmen roaming the streets agreed to let the Irish open a mile-long stretch of road to the airport as an escape route for 73 frightened Belgian settlers huddled in a tin mine company's guest house. The Belgians, 13 women and 60 men, were trapped as hundreds of tribesmen armed with old rifles, spears and bows and arrows swarmed into the town Tuesday and attacked Negro police led by white officers. A refugee aboard a UN plane arriving in Elisabeth-ville, capital of Katanga, Thursday night said only 27 Belgians remained in Manono. BALUBAS INFLAMED The Balubas, who in this area side with Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba in his feud with Premier Moïse Tshombe of Katanga, were inflamed by a witchdoctor who sold them a magic formula he claimed made them immune to "white men's bullets."

The outnumbered police retreated to seek UN protection after bloody fighting in which 13 Balubas were slain and 14 wounded. Two Negro policemen were killed and one of their two Belgian officers wounded.

When the fighting subsided, wives and relatives of the slain Balubas turned the bodies in a circle until the feet touched the place where the heads had lain "to confuse evil spirits." Then they draped the bodies in Congo flags and carried them away. Manono took on the appearance of a dead city with the mines shut down and everything else idle. The only UN authority left in the town was a contingent of 140 men from the Irish 33rd Battalion.

BADGE OF SAFETY The UN blue helmet was the only badge of safety for a white man as bands of tribesmen prowled amid smouldering buildings. After two hours' fighting the police, with their wives and children, retreated to UN headquarters and laid down their arms. Twenty-two Belgians and 140 Congolese were flown out Wednesday. Three planes arrived in Elisabethville Thursday night from Manono with 11 Swedish UN troops, no longer needed, and 56 refugees.

C and O Shareholders Approve Rail Merger CLEVELAND (AP)—Chesapeake and Ohio Railway shareholders have indicated they are overwhelmingly in favor of a merger with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Eaton Backs Khrushchev

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cyrus Eaton, Canadian-born Cleveland industrialist and financier, predicted Thursday night that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will win "a tremendous victory" on two proposals to the United Nations.

One proposal Khrushchev will place before the UN, Eaton predicted, will call for admission of Red China to the UN. The second basic proposal on which the Soviet leader will win, Eaton said, will call for complete, universal and immediate disarmament.

"Winning on these two issues will be a tremendous victory for Khrushchev and a sad defeat for the United States," said Eaton.

NO ANTI-CATHOLIC STAND

Famed Preacher Disowns Protest

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister, author and lecturer, said Thursday he was merely an "invited guest" at a politically controversial meeting of Protestants in Washington recently and has since resigned from the group. The group had issued a statement which said a Roman Catholic president of the United States would be under "extreme pressure from the hierarchy of his church."

Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee for the Nov. 8 U.S. election, is a Roman Catholic. Peale is supporting Vice-President Richard Nixon, the Republican nominee. Nixon is a Protestant. "I was merely present as an invited guest," said Dr. Peale in a statement issued Thursday.

Dr. Peale continued: "The unwarranted implications which have been drawn from my attendance at that meeting contradict my record of 30 years of ardent interfaith activity, of which I am justly proud."

"The people have the right to elect a Catholic, a Jew, a Protestant or even someone of no religious affiliation as president, and he has the right to serve. The election should be on the basis of the man best qualified."

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan. If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Advt.

PROFIT FROM LIQUOR PROPS GOVERNMENTS

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — If Canadians stop drinking or arming, they'd better do it gradually, Charlotte Whitton, former mayor of Ottawa, said Thursday night.

She told the Canadian Club federal and provincial fiscal systems would collapse if the governments suddenly lost liquor revenues. A similar situation would develop if defence spending was halted suddenly by world-wide disarmament.

She added the emergence of a new political party, with labor leaders offering themselves to guide it, may become one of the healthiest developments in recovery by the people of direct power over those who shape their lives.

On the West Indian island of Barbados, 3,120 donkey carts are an important part of the local transportation system.

SOLUTION MONDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

They are trying to bring a better class of millionaire to Southern France — to the sunny Riviera.

My handsome friend, Andre Sonier, manager of the fashionable Carlton Hotel, is trying to line up 1,000 millionaires to build a private yacht harbor for a new "International Sporting Club of the Sea." Texas, Hollywood, Chicago and Florida millionaires, please apply!

You are supposed to own both a yacht and a plane. But ex-Ambassador Joseph Kennedy and Jack Warner will be welcome though they don't have yachts. They will presumably be admitted into the "landlubbers' division," consisting of yachtless yachtsmen.

Lady Docker, whose yacht is barred from Monte Carlo (when she's on it) may join.

She leased her yacht to a Greek for $4,000 a day. He could do it at Monte Carlo, but she couldn't come aboard — even as a guest.

Monsieur Sonier and confrere Pierre Canto may tie up with the millionaires of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and with Roy Evans of Miami Beach Racquet Club. The Aga Khan's widow, the Begum, is counted upon as a member. So dive right in, the money's fine.

Monsieur Sonier told me the bikini babes this year are for Jack Kennedy for President, not just because Joseph Kennedy came here after the Los Angeles convention. "They just say he's so beautiful and young!" Monsieur said.

Paris "Match," the magazine, has an article saying "In 10 years, we will be richer than the Americans." A nasty American said, "And then they can come to the U.S. as tourists and we can rob them."

American news paperman Dick Leahy had an unusual experience in a Paris hotel. He was charged for a phone call, but didn't make any. He protested, "No, you didn't make any, but you got one!" he was informed.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK

Merv Griffin gets another NBC TV show Oct. 1 — one hour Saturday. Harwyn duo: Lucille Ball and handsome model Vic Cutrone. Mark Goodson was quoted in London as saying he has a Rolls because Cadillac convertibles are as common in NY as minis. Chanin Hale of Dayton, featured in "Little Mary Sunshine," was U.S. roller skate figure champ at 16.

EARL'S PEARLS: A beatnik is merely somebody too lazy to wash.

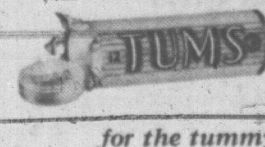

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A couple more appearances and Mr. Khrushchev with his ranting, his rudeness and his threats may find himself labeled not a Russian bear but a Russian bore." — London Graphic.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Why do people complain about inaccurate weather reports? Everything is correct but the date!" — Bill Kroll.

We hear via Arthur Maisei of an up-to-date bank that's so anxious to please that it has a special window for people passing in robbery notes. That's earl, brother.

$75 BITE PUT ON MAN PINCHED FOR 'PINCH'

EDMONTON (CP) — Warren Stacpoole, who "pinched" a policeman Aug. 31, and who was arrested for indecent assault, Thursday was found guilty of the charge and fined $75 in city police court.

Magistrate E. W. Barclay found Stacpoole guilty of "pinching" policeman Betty Dennis as she was leaving a downtown cafe.

Const. Dennis and another policeman were about to leave the cafe when the accused "reached out and pinched her."

Trained in judo, officer Dennis turned around and "dropped" her assailant to the floor, where he was held until the patrol wagon arrived.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 26-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Anne Woltmann, aged 12, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., for her question:

What Are Animals That Eat Both Meat and Vegetables?

Carnivores are animals that eat meat and only meat. Vegetarians are animals that eat plants and only plants. But there are many, many animals that eat both meat and vegetables. These mixed diet eaters are called omnivores. Since human beings live on a mixed diet of meat and vegetables, we too are omnivores.

Whether he is carnivorous, omnivorous or a vegetarian, there are reasons why an animal must stick to his diet. A cat cannot live on a diet of salads, a bison cannot eat meat and a bear will not remain healthy without a mixed diet. Each animal has the right kind of teeth and the right kind of digestive system for chewing and turning his food into proper nourishment.

When an expert finds a fossil head, jaw, or even a single tooth, he can tell what kind of food the long dead animal used to eat. In the main, there are three kinds of teeth, each with a different job to do. We know for a fact that the saber-toothed tiger was a meat-eater, for those saber teeth can be used only for tearing and shredding.

These fang teeth are called canines, dog teeth or cusps. Any animal who has them is a meat-eater and such teeth are of little use for grazing. Grazing animals depend on their molars, those flat-topped chompers and grinders in the back of the jaw. The front teeth, those with chiseled cutting edges, are called the incisors. They are the biting teeth.

The deer, moose and bison have four pair of lower incisors and a pad of gristle instead of upper incisors. They have no canine teeth. They use the tongue and lower front teeth to tear off grass and foliage and they chew it with 24 fine, strong molars.

The coyote, fox and wolf each have four fine canine teeth for tearing meat, as do the cats. Squirrels and beavers, who gnaw tough woody fibers, have four long, strong incisors and no canine teeth at all.

Omnivores Well Equipped

The omnivorous animals are equipped with all three kinds of teeth. Bruin, who will eat almost anything, has 12 incisors, four canines and 26 fine molars. The raccoon has 12 incisors, four canines and 24 molars. The pig too has well developed teeth of every variety. Wild boars, who must catch and kill meat, have extra long canine tusks for tearing. All these animals are equipped to eat both meat and vegetables.

What an animal eats, of course, goes down into his stomach and meat is more quickly and easily digested than vegetables. The cow's stomach is divided into chambers so that the grass can be digested in stages. The bunny has a much longer intestine than a cat, hence, Miss Puss could not properly digest a salad, even if her teeth could chew it.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Elizabeth Jean Mattingly, age 11, of Springfield, Ky., for her question:

IS THERE A QUEEN OF BEASTS?

No one doubts that his majesty the lion is King of Beasts. He is brave, noble and strong enough to beat any other animal in a fair fight. But his majesty is a family man, very devoted to his several wives and his cubs. He defends them fiercely, teaches the young ones to behave as proper lions should and treats them all as though they were indeed the royal family.

When the time comes to hunt, the lady lion leads the chase and makes the kill. In a fight, especially where her young ones are concerned, she is quite as strong and as fierce as her husband. Since she is the wife of the King and a noble animal in her own right, we naturally think of her as the Queen of Beasts.

Four Die in Crash

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP) — Four men were killed Thursday when their car collided head-on with a five-ton truck on Highway 17, about eight miles east of here. Police identified the dead as Henry Calden, Minnow Lake, six miles south of Sudbury; Thomas Price, Levack, 25 miles northwest of Sudbury, and Percy Kouch and Leander Blaseg, both of Sudbury.

The mayor said Victoria will never become an industrial city like Vancouver. It will always be a residential, civil service and navy city "and, I hope, we will be the cultural centre of B.C."

"If we don't have culture in our lives, we lack a third dimension," said the mayor. "It is people who are interested in cultural things who can raise the whole level of Canada."

"And it is centres such as this that will give them their inspiration."

On view until Oct. 9 will be a collection of paintings by Dutch and Flemish masters and a showing of 30 bird paintings by Victoria artist Fenwick Lansdowne.

Jazz Society Folds After Two-Year Run

Victoria Jazz Society — two months short of its third anniversary — voluntarily suspended a five operation indefinitely this week.

With only a handful of its original members left, the society at its final meeting decided there is too little popular support to continue actively in the promotion of jazz music forms, notably by public concert and cabaret.

Instead, the remaining members and any others wishing to keep jazz alive by discussion, record sessions and talks by jazz authorities when available, will meet informally in the hope of re-organizing the society when interest is higher.

GRANTS SOUGHT FOR COLWOOD FAIR Harness Racing Planned

Construction grants for fair buildings at Colwood exhibition park will be sought from the federal and provincial governments, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said Thursday night.

Reconstruction of the old Colwood track on the 140-acre property also is planned for inauguration of harness racing next spring.

Ald. Edgelow is president of the B.C. Agricultural Association which has a lease on the property, near Colwood Corners on the Old Island Highway and just seven miles from the city centre.

If the construction grants are obtained quickly, the association hopes the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce fair will be held in the new buildings this spring and a Class B fair next fall. Eventually BCAA plans to stage a Class A fair on the grounds.

Ald. Edgelow invited the public to see the property by attending a free field day Sunday starting at 1:30 p.m. at the park.

'Hush-Hush' Agency Files Missing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The defence department disclosed Thursday that one of the two American code workers who defected to Russia had access to secret papers that are missing from the files of the hush-hush National Security Agency.

Defence department general counsel J. Vincent Burke, Jr., also told House investigators that the two turncoat mathematicians could have made copies of other secret documents and taken them with them. But he said there "is no evidence thus far which would indicate such to be the case."

Burke further testified that the defence department had no evidence that the defectors were part of an espionage ring. So far as is known, he said, they had no accomplices "here or elsewhere."

But he said some handwritten briefing notes are missing from the security agency and it is not known whether they were destroyed by the author or removed by the defectors. He said one of the defectors, William H. Martin, 29, had access to them.

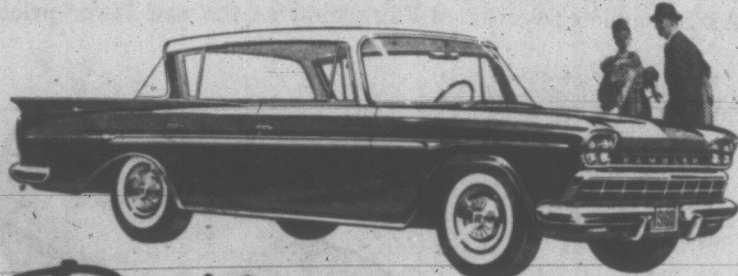

Testifying at a hearing of a House armed services subcommittee, Burke said the defection of Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell, could not jeopardize the security of U.S. communications. But he conceded the defectors "could" aid Soviet communications.

K's Planes Might Snoop Says Airman

An ex-RAF officer now living in Victoria suggested Thursday the Americans had restricted Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan because they knew Soviet planes accompanying him elsewhere would be equipped for photographic espionage.

Sqdn. Ldr. Jack Holmes told Oak Bay Kiwanis that a fighter pilot under his command once took an aerial photograph of a Russian TU-104 which had at least 16 camera portholes open during a diplomatic mission to England.

"BETWEEN LINES"

He suggested the Americans are aware of such tactics and had restricted Mr. Khrushchev's movements in retaliation for Russia's recent spy trial of American U-2 pilot Francis Powers.

Mr. Holmes did not openly accuse the Russians with mixing diplomacy with spying. He said as a retired officer he was bound by the Official Secrets Act and his listeners would have to "read between the lines."

United Finance Plan Of Church in Danger

EDMONTON (CP) — Heavy borrowing by congregations is increasing the over-all financial problems of the United Church, Rev. V. T. Mooney of Toronto, said Thursday.

Liabilities of the congregations at the end of last year totalled more than $27,500,000, the church treasurer told commissioners attending general council. This was an increase of about 7 per cent above that of 10 years ago.

In some cases, he said, the increase is 16 to 20 times as great in British Columbia and Alberta.

"Unless the church undertakes better regulations of extra financial demands on congregations we are in danger of disorganizing the unified plan of finance," he said.

He indicated that the church's long-range planning committee is expected to study the whole subject of integration of local, regional and denominational financing.

K DECLINES HARVARD BID

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has turned down an invitation to speak before the Harvard Law School forum because of the restrictions on his travel in the United States.

Forum President Richard E. Smith emphasized that the invitation to the Soviet leader had been extended before the state department imposed the travel ban.

A CLIMATE OF MUTUAL TRUST

Church Cold War Thawing

EDMONTON (CP) — Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, a leading Presbyterian minister from New York, said Thursday there is "a thawing in the cold war between Roman Catholic and Protestant theologians."

Minister of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Dr. Bonnell gave the first in a series of devotional addresses in conjunction with the meeting here of the 19th general council of the United Church of Canada. He said conferences or conversations are being held between leaders of the two faiths which already have produced a large measure of goodwill and a climate of mutual trust.

"We have been discovering that long-range accusation, name calling, angry disputes do not promote truth or advance the cause of Christ," he said. "Indeed they actively hinder these high objectives. The pressure of world happenings hostile to all religions have in a measure forced these groups into closer contact."

"We are all facing a three-fold threat to our well-being—the ever-advancing spirit of secularism, the corroding influence of materialism, the world-wide menace of Marxism," he said.

CAPTAIN DISCOVERY BOOSTS TOURIST FLOW, SAYS HAWKINS

'You Can't Call That Swashbuckler a Pirate!'

Victoria Publicity Bureau Commissioner William Hawkins, whose methods are under fire by some Junior Chamber of Commerce officials, today said that increases in tourist business here speak for the methods.

He was criticized by retiring Jaycee president Peter Forward and Jack Urquhart for dropping the 40-year-old "Follow the Birds to Victoria" slogan and substituting one describing Vancouver Island as a "Treasure Island" with the traditional seagull motif replaced by a swashbuckling seafarer of old, named Captain Discovery.

"We are happy that Mr. Forward and Mr. Urquhart have taken an interest in the tourist business. We are always happy to receive both criticisms and suggestions for improvement," said Mr. Hawkins.

"Our tourist business shows a very healthy growth for the three months in 1960. June was up 11 per cent, July 40 per cent and August increased 155 per cent in tourist traffic."

Mr. Hawkins said the Captain Discovery motif had been praised by numerous persons in the tourist business including John Fisher, Canada's best-known tourist promoter.

Mr. Hawkins also bristled at the suggestion that the Captain Discovery motif suggested Victorians were pirates.

"At the risk of appearing 'pedantic', to use Mr. Forward's own word, I would like to point out that Captain Discovery was an authentic character, a gentleman of definite distinction and naval accomplishment who represented the Royal Navy in the discovery of the west coast. "Discovery Passage" was named after him and he was far from being a pirate."

Mr. Hawkins said the old slogan was resented by up-island communities while the new slogan encourages tourists to the entire Island with special emphasis on Victoria as the gateway.

"Perhaps it might be said that we have lost a slogan and gained an Island!"

"Mr. Hawkins disputed Mr. Forward's contention that everyone knew Victoria was the tourist attraction on Vancouver Island.

"It is not my intention to criticize Mr. Forward's zeal but I do think the Island communities who share our interest in tourism would find his approach parochial, to say the least.

"We gain as much from co-operation with the Island communities as they gain from us. The state of Hawaii, Austria and other regions have gained world-wide recognition for their tourist efforts and their successes by appeal on a wide base, not by each community vying with each other to the detriment of all others."

SUDDEN STOP AT A CORNER when a parked bus was noted on Cowichan Lake Road at 7.45 a.m. today caused light car to skid, roll, and come to rest on its top across railroad tracks. Ambulance was called from Duncan, five miles east, but car driver,

G. W. Peck, 18, of Duncan, was not injured. Damage was $250. Regulations now in force require all vehicles to stop, in both directions, when in vicinity of stopped school bus. (Photo for Times by D'Arcy Rickard.)

MOST-WANTED MAN SANE; FACES TRIAL

Daniel William O'Connor will be transferred from Essondale to Oakalla Prison Farm to await trial on a charge of attempting to murder an RCMP officer, under a provincial cabinet order today.

O'Connor, who was committed to Essondale May 12, has been declared sane.

He was on the RCMP's most-wanted list for five years after a constable was pistol-whipped in 1953 during a forgery investigation. O'Connor was returned to Canada in 1958 from San Diego when identified through fingerprints.

New Town Forming In North

A provincial cabinet order today was the first step toward carving a new town out of the forest wilderness of B.C.'s north-land.

Land and Forests Minister Ray Williston said the new community will be set up 12 miles north of Summit Lake, about 40 miles from Prince George.

The cabinet order lifted part of the Crooked River forest reserve to allow establishment of the town.

Mr. Williston said the community is being set up mainly for loggers and their families. He said there will be some 60 to 80 families involved.

"Eventually there could be 100," he said.

FIRST OF ITS KIND "This is a new idea," he said. "It's the first of its kind in the province."

The project is a joint one by half a dozen local logging operators, education, health and welfare officials, and the government's lands and forests department.

Mr. Williston said the project "has nothing to do" with the nearby Pacific Northern Railway, which starts at Summit Lake and runs northwest toward the Yukon border.

However, it is possible that the line might join the new community, he said.

Next step to setting it up will be public auction of subdivided lots on a 25.4-acre area of Crown land, he said.

Logging operators have agreed to build roads. Eventually a waterworks system will be provided, using the lake.

VARIETY OF INDUSTRY The new town will be a centre for a wide area of operations, including several possible future sites for mill development.

Go-Ahead Given Gas Lines

Two northern B.C. projects received government approval today to start construction.

B.C. Power Commission was given permission to build a seven-mile gas pipeline and Gas Trunk Line of B.C. Ltd. got the go-ahead on a 100-mile line.

The hydro project is the public utility's first venture into the natural gas business.

FORT NELSON It will build a line from a well seven miles outside Fort Nelson to its generating station there.

Providing gas service to some 200 customers in Fort Nelson was one of the conditions under which the power commission took over the area from Northland Utilities Ltd.

The other pipeline is from Fort Nelson to Chetwynd, with branches from Taylor to gas fields at Boundary Lake, and to the L'Aprixe fields near the Alberta border.

Gas Trunk officials announced in Vancouver this week that men and machines were on the way to start construction immediately.

Injuries Fatal To City Woman

9th Traffic Fatality This Year

Greater Victoria traffic fatalities rose to nine today with the death early this morning of Mrs. Gertrude B. Buckler, 68, of 1015 Collinson.

She died in the Royal Jubilee Hospital at 6.45 a.m. from head injuries and shock received when her car collided with another vehicle driven by Ernest F. Marshall, 958 Victoria.

She was hurled 12 feet to the pavement from her small car in the accident which occurred at Fort and Cook Wednesday at 8.22 p.m.

Mr. Marshall and a passenger, John E. Boyle, 27, of 2375 Rosario, suffered from minor injuries and shock.

THIRD IN CITY

Mrs. Buckler is the third traffic fatality of the year for Victoria proper but the ninth in the Greater Victoria area.

She is also the second woman to die as the result of a traffic accident within two weeks. On Sept. 7, Mrs. Annie Jane Mayne, 1900 Neil, died of injuries received in a traffic accident at Fairfield and Foul Bay on Sept. 1. She also was thrown from a car.

Mrs. Buckler was well known here. For many years she was organist at Grace Lutheran Church.

Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart said an inquest will be held next week, the day to be announced later.

Mrs. Buckler is survived by the husband, John, four daughters, Mrs. Evelyn G. S. Eden, Mrs. Frank Tupman, Mrs. W. Martin, all of Victoria, and Mrs. Clarice Pendray of Vancouver, one brother, Harold Ritchie of Tacoma.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Sands Mortuary Ltd.

U.S. Cutter Here

The U.S. Coastguard cutter Klamath will visit Victoria from 1 p.m. Saturday to 11 a.m. Sunday. It has not yet been decided where the vessel—a large ocean-going type—will berth.

Navy, Air Force Officers Finish Anti-Sub Course

Seventy officers from the RCN and the RCAF have just completed a two-week refresher course in anti-submarine warfare at Esquimalt Naval Base.

The class has been under instruction by Cmdr. W. M. Kidd, RCN; Wing Cmdr. H. M. Miller, RCAF, and nine directors from the Joint Maritime Warfare School, Halifax.

The class comprised 40 officers from the 2nd and 4th Canadian Escort Squadrons and 30 aircrew officers of 407 Squadron, RCAF, Comox.

Ex-City Teacher, Actor Dies of Heart Attack

Fraser Lister, former Oak Bay High School teacher, well-known in Victoria as a singer, actor and producer, has died in Vancouver of a heart attack. He was a private school teacher there.

His body was found in his apartment by his landlord. Police said Mr. Lister died about five days ago.

Mr. Lister, about 50, had been a member of the Oak Bay High teaching staff 17 years and was widely known for his activities in drama and opera.

In 1936 he won the best actor awards in both the provincial and Dominion Drama Festivals and was a charter member of the Victoria Little Theatre Association.

FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES GALORE have been entered at the annual two-day show of the Victoria Horticultural Society, which opened at the Crystal Garden today. VHS officials said there are 671 entries, twice as many as last year. Shown here is Pamela Dixon, 1833 Beach Drive, with an award-winning jumbo-sized leek. (Times Photo.)

More Fog to Roll Into City Tonight

Air travellers today continued to be the chief sufferers from fog that has persisted here since Wednesday morning.

Trans-Canada Air Lines again lost five departures from Patricia Bay to Vancouver, and four arrivals. First Seattle flight was delayed.

Company officials, however, said operations were back on schedule by noon.

MORE SATURDAY

The weatherman predicted a late afternoon free of fog, but said it would thicken again at 9 p.m., and persist through Saturday morning. There will be some clearance in the afternoon.

There is no hope for a change before Sunday, he said, which might possibly be sunny. He blamed the fog on an "inversion" or stationary blanket of warm air at upper levels over the city. This traps cold air, smoke, exhaust gases and fog below it, and there is nothing to let them escape.

On two occasions one of the B.C. government ferries has been delayed up to 15 minutes by low visibility at the Swartz Bay terminal, but in each case the time was made up after a round trip.

There is no fog in Georgia Strait, ferry officials said.

Traffic movement in the city and district has been normal, and Vancouver Island Coach Lines buses have maintained schedules without trouble. Only complaints have come from waterfront residents within earshot of the lugubrious moans of foghorns.

Winds will be light again Saturday, according to the weatherman, and temperatures will range between 48 and 65 degrees.

Scholarships Offered

Thirteen $2,000 graduate scholarships for study at any British university are offered by the I.O.D.E. for 1960-61, it was announced today.

Deadline for applications is Oct. 15.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Charles Stewart, 3426 W. 34th St., Vancouver.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. How does U.S. beer compare with Canadian beer in alcoholic content? V.I.

A. Canadian beer is slightly stronger. In the U.S., 100 per cent alcohol is rated as 200 proof spirits. In Canada, 100 per cent alcohol is rated 175 proof spirits. Thus U.S. beer, 3.2 ounces by weight, is equal to 4.02 alcohol by volume, or 8.04 per cent proof spirits. In Canada, a similar 3.2 ounces by weight of course equals 4.2 by volume, but is 7.35 proof spirits, under the Canadian standard.

Q. I would appreciate it if you would clarify this. My sister Sept. 12 voted for only one candidate instead of three in Victoria. Is her ballot considered spoiled? S.M.

A. No. One can vote for one or more candidates up to the number of seats open in a given riding.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to "The Times," addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve comedowns or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or securities. These should be submitted to dealers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A special meeting of Esquimalt Council will be held tonight to discuss plans for the municipality's proposed sports centre.

Six sets of plans were originally submitted by contractors for the $400,000 project but the list has been narrowed down, leaving three plans for consideration. Two are from Victoria firms and one from a Nanaimo firm.

If a decision is reached tonight it is likely the matter will be raised in open council Monday.

All dinghies and small boats must be removed from the outer floats by next Thursday at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club to enable floats to be repaired, officials said today.

The summer season ends Sept. 24, "haul-out day."

Brake failure on a 10-ton crane caused the Tuesday accident which injured crane operator Vernon Edgelow, Yarrow Road, officials said Thursday.

Edgelow was hospitalized one day with shoulder injuries after the crane overturned while making a two-ton lift.

Firemen from both Sidney and Central Saanich volunteer departments Thursday pumped thousands of gallons of water on a brush fire on West Saanich Road which devastated two acres.

The blaze started near the home of Herman Henry, 8537 West Saanich Road, on the Cole Bay Indian reserve.

The blaze was believed to have been started by a smouldering stump.

Close to 600 persons Thursday night attended an Oak Bay fire department "open house" to see a new fire truck which Fire Chief William Pearson recently drove to Victoria from Montreal.

Greater Victoria fire departments were represented. Gear carried by the Oak Bay department's rescue truck was also on display. It was donated by Oak Bay Kiwanis Club.

New president of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society is Charles Cameron.

He was installed Thursday, succeeding Blanche Grant.

Other officers installed were Kay Inglis, first vice-president; Jack Dirom, second vice-president; Georgina MacKay, secretary; Mrs. Daisie Featherstone, financial secretary, and Mrs. Maude Blades, treasurer.

Members of the Prince Albert Association—former residents of the Saskatchewan city—are invited to a picnic Sunday to be held in Stanley Park, Vancouver.

The intermediate group of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1.30 p.m. at the Monterey restaurant parking lot for a trail-making session at Francis Park, Munn Road.

Interest in Civil Defence training courses is booming. This week, 45 new members of the CD organization registered for basic orientation and wardens' courses, and 34 for auxiliary police training.

This was the highest number in the auxiliary CD police force to register in the history of the organization here.

The 37-year history of Malvern House School, Richmond Road, will be marked Saturday by a flag raising ceremony conducted by Rev. Angus Cameron, school padre.

Parents of pupils, old boys, and pupils themselves will attend the 3 p.m. ceremony.

At the same time a plaque at the school's entrance bearing the school motto "Nil Sine Labore"—Nothing Without Labor—will be unveiled.

Lionel Cayer, 1558 Charlton, was sentenced in Saanich police court Thursday to 30 days in jail when he was found guilty of vagrancy by wandering in Gorge Park, an offence for a person previously convicted of a morals offence.

The charge was laid after Cayer was picked up at the park, Aug. 20, where in his trial he said he went to clear his head after feeling ill.

A meeting of the Dickens Fellowship set for Monday will not now take place owing to the recent death of the president, E. F. Wetherston. Next meeting will be Oct. 17.

The C.P.R. Veterans' Association will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Crystal Garden.

New Fire Hall Studied For Burnside

City fire wardens committee today decided to investigate desirability of closing No. 2 fire hall at Burnside and Douglas and building a new one several blocks west.

Fire Chief James Bayliss was requested to report to the next meeting on the proposal.

Under the suggested change, a $60,000 fire hall would be built on the old Rock Bay School site at John and Turner. The property was turned over to the city by the provincial government several months ago at a nominal fee for use as a fire hall site.

SELL PROPERTY

The existing No. 2 fire hall at Burnside and Douglas would be closed and the property put up for sale to help offset cost of the new building.

Ald. Arthur Dowell said the move would be a good thing because the new location would give faster service to the Victoria West area.

Five wardens' chairman, Ald. Hugh Ramsay, said the present No. 2 fire hall operations are suffering increasing interference from traffic congestion at the busy corner.

City council will have to decide whether to purchase an 18-foot strip on the northeast corner of Cook and Pandora to allow straightening of the intersection.

Finance committee was unable to agree on the step, described by Ald. Ramsay as the "key" to solving the north-bound traffic bottleneck and eventual widening of Cook north of the intersection.

He said a serious traffic problem existed because Cook was 100 feet wide south of the intersection and only 66 feet wide north of it. There also was a westward jog created by the intersection.

But Mayor Percy Scurrell and Ald. Dowell both said purchase of the strip would make a whole corner lot unusable. They doubted that future traffic patterns would use Cook enough to justify costly widening.

Finance committee recommended approval of a $100 grant to the Corps of Imperial Frontiersmen which provides policing services for various public gatherings.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Serve Hot Chinese Dinners To Please Your Teen-Agers

By PENNY SAVER

You'll be the favorite mother with the teen-age group if you surprise them with a Chinese dinner next time the gang decide to hold a get-together at your house! There's no need to spend hours in the kitchen preparing succulent delicacies if you get some of the imported pre-prepared Chinese foods that are now selling in one downtown store.

There's enough for four servings in two-can pack of mushroom chow-mein that's selling at $1.05. Food can be produced in a jiffy. Heat the savory sauce and mushroom mixture that's in the smaller can in a double boiler or skillet. Meanwhile, drain juices from crisp, cooked vegetables in other can then stir slowly into sauce.

Heat to boiling point and simmer for five minutes. For a final gourmet touch add a little soya sauce—this sells at 39 cents for a five-ounce bottle—and serve over noodles.

In the same line are cans of chicken chow mein and beef chop suey. These sell for $1.18. If yours is a small family there are smaller cans which contain approximately 2 1/2 pounds. In these, mushroom chow mein sells at 73 cents, beef chop suey at 79 cents and chicken chow mein at 81 cents.

Although prices of veal seem to have become permanently stuck at the high cost level it's possible to get a shoulder roast for only 75 cents a pound this weekend. Best beef buys are prime rib roasts, selling at 75 cents a pound, and chuck roasts, priced at 69 cents a pound.

An economical meat loaf or casserole is well on the way when you buy hamburger, priced at 45 cents a pound. Spring lamb is plentiful right now and 55 cents a pound is a good price for the excellent shoulders I saw this morning. Legs of lamb are a little higher—85 cents a pound.

Most of the week, family breakfasts are an "eat and run" proposition. When Sunday morning comes around, take advantage of opportunity of having all the family around the dining table and serve a surprise dish to set the day off to a good start. One suggestion is some of the kipper fillets that are imported from Scotland. Tasty fillets sell at 55 cents a pound.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Exercise Is the Answer To That Roll Over Girdle

(The Question Box)

Q. "I have successfully lost 45 pounds. Now I still have the problem of losing a roll of fat just above the waist. I have 10 more pounds to lose but dieting doesn't seem to help. Do you know of an exercise which might help?"

A. Congratulations on your loss of extra poundage! A loss of that remaining 10 pounds too much will help some, but exercise is the answer to speeding the departure of the roll over the girdle. There are many good ones for this figure fault. Do the following.

Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Raise your arms overhead, one arm by each ear. Keep the arms in this position and the knees stiff as you make large circles with your torso. Bend and reach in every direction as far as possible. Do this slowly. Rotate first to the left and then to the right.

Take the same starting position. Keep the arms in the same position and the knees stiff as you bend down toward the left trying to touch your left toe with the fingertips of both hands. Raise the trunk. Next bend to the right and try to touch the fingertips to the right toe. Raise trunk and continue, alternating left and right. If you cannot touch the toes, go down as far in that direction as possible.

Q. "I have a round, fat face. What hair style will be the most flattering to me?"

A. Wear your hair high on top and close at the sides. Height is especially essential in order to make your face appear slimmer.

Q. "I am a boy 16 years old. I am six feet tall and weigh 208 pounds. I have large bones. How much should I weigh?"

A. You should weigh around 180 pounds.

DEAR ABBY

Force-Feeding at Its Worst

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just love my mother-in-law to pieces but please tell me if it is right of her to try to force us to eat the minute we get in her house when we just got up from our dinner table?

We try to explain that we just finished a big meal but she goes right out in the kitchen and fixes sandwiches, pickles, cookies, cheese, coffee and leftovers. If we don't eat, she gets mad and says, "Look what you wasted! If you don't eat we'll have to throw it out!"

Maybe she thinks we don't have enough to eat at our home. I was taught when a person says, "No, thank you," it was rude to insist. We go home so stuffed we can't sleep at night. My husband says we have to eat to keep peace. What is your opinion?

OVERFED

DEAR OVERFED: If you eat to "keep the peace," your mother-in-law will think you were hungry and you'll be faced with this problem repeatedly. Her heart is bigger than your stomachs, but where your health is involved, it's better to throw it out than to throw it in.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man for two years and everything he buys me is jewelry and mostly rhinestones. When I am with him he wants to know why I don't have any of it on. My problem is, I don't know where you are supposed to wear rhinestones and what with. Can you help me?

A COUNTRY GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Rhinestones should be worn after five. And for very dressy occasions. And sparingly.

DEAR ABBY: I am an average man, married to an average (I think) wife. My pet gripe is whenever we go somewhere I can get dressed in half an hour, but it takes the wife two hours. How come?

SPEED

DEAR SPEED: Maybe it's because women have to slow up for the curves.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AFRID OF THE FUTURE: There are eight requisites for contented living: Health enough to make work a pleasure.

Lt.-Cmdr. (MN) Mary E. Nesbitt, matron-in-chief on staff of the surgeon-general in Ottawa, proceeded on retirement leave early this month. She has been succeeded by Sqdn.-Ldr. Muriel C. McArthur, RCAF, of Orillia and Barrie, Ont. Since entering the navy at Saint John, Lt.-Cmdr. Nesbitt has served in many capacities including that of matron at Esquimaux Naval Hospital. She was appointed matron-in-chief of the RCN in September, 1954, and has been matron-in-chief, Canadian Forces Medical Service, since January, 1959.

Wealth enough to support your needs.

Strength to battle with difficulties and overcome them.

Grace enough to confess your sins and forsake them.

Patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished.

Charity enough to see some good in your neighbor.

Faith enough to make real the things of God.

Hope enough to remove all anxious fear concerning the future.

Trainer Uses 'Soft' Talk

By PAT DUFOUR

A little "soft talk" goes a long way in training horses, says Mrs. May Smith, horse owner and only licensed woman trainer attending fall race meeting which gets under way at Sidney's Sandown Park on Saturday.

"I've never believed in a quick whack with a lead shank when it comes to calming one of these temperamental thoroughbreds. I prefer to talk them into behaving themselves. You run less risk of getting a kick from a scared animal when you enter their stall!"

PREFERS RACERS

This petite blue-eyed woman has a lifetime experience of horses. Her parents bred pacers and trotters at their home in Oregon and Mrs. Smith's pattern was set when, at an early age, she received a brood mare as a present from her mother. "Soon after this she developed a preference for the faster race horses and now has 22 years of breeding to her credit. She has raised her thoroughbreds on various tracks for 20 years.

Coming to Canada on her marriage to Alfred Smith, she settled on the mainland, where she and her husband raise and train thoroughbreds at their Sullivan Station home in Surrey.

"Alfred didn't like horses at first but he gradually caught the bug—especially when they began winning!" she says.

This is the first time that the Smiths have brought their horses to Sandown and their main hope for a win lies in a lively four-year-old colt, Val Read. They have four other thoroughbreds with them and a lead pony for exercising.

"Tack room" is "home" to Mrs. Smith and her husband during their stay at Sidney. Besides two cot beds, the tiny room, through whose slats the horse in the adjoining stall can be plainly seen, contains all the bridles, saddles, muzzles and other equipment. A tiny electric plate is used for cooking and heating water for the horses' feed. Facilities for bathing are a large cooking pot and a sponge.

What other qualifications are needed to be a trainer? "You have to be a bit of a vet," says Mrs. Smith. "Most common ailments are coughs and colds and colic. And of course, there are always sore feet and legs to worry about."

And you must like hard work. "We get up at 5.30 in the morning. I get an hour off in the afternoon to rest or do some shopping. With exercising, grooming and feeding, the horses keep me going right up until their 'midnight snack' at 10 at night."

Hats Reach Skywards In Autumn Fashions

Space age, Garbo era and the naughty 20s were all represented at this afternoon's showing of fall fashions by the T. Eaton Company in their Victoria Room. Although, when the curtain went up, it had a distinct "vineyard" hue there was still a variety of exciting new shades to appeal to everyone. Forest green, cocoa brown, electric blue, amber and autumn red were among the colors that brought appreciative murmurs from the audience.

It was obvious that if you want to get anywhere fashionable this season you'll have to go "high hat." Most popular shape was the dome.

Garbo would have been quite at home with the high crowned cloche worn by Pat Olson with a topcoat of pure llama-faced fabric. Black over-checks highlighted the coat's deep forest green background. If you think that reindeer have no place in the fashion world, how wrong you are! In a vibrant rose suit from Dublin, reindeer fur and wool were merged to create a fabric that spelled glamor with a capital G.

The Cha-Cha and Charleston went hand in hand with a show-stopper of a white afternoon dress worn by Nona Damaske. An all-over magnified fringe swept from the cross-over strap bodice to hemline, giving an air of continual movement.

With all this variety—the little black basic dress was not forgotten. One wool sheath dress worn by Phyllis Brebner brought immediate response with its simplicity of style and obvious adaptability. "Luxurious is the only word to describe a mink stole in desert gold that topped an "after-five" dress of snowy white chiffon which had a fitted bodice, completely encrusted with winking opalescent sequins. A fringe of silver bugle beads trimming the scoop neckline kaleidoscoped the audience way back to the 20s for a brief space of time.

Yet, in spite of a terrific range of color and style, this afternoon's show, sponsored by the Victoria Rotary Women's Auxiliary, will be good news to women on a restricted budget.

Styles, though exciting, were not shockingly different to those already being worn, hemlines crept neither up nor down, and addition of a new hat would certainly seem to be almost as effective as a brand new outfit.

Showing will again be presented Saturday afternoon in Eaton's Victoria Room.

Braide, Mrs. P. S. Widdup and Miss Gwen Scott. Receiving guests were Dr. and Mrs. Stark, Mrs. A. S. Wyllie and the gallery curator, Colin Graham. Coffee was served by the women's committee.

Among those attending the reception were Mrs. Alex Gillespie, Mrs. Malcolm Anderson, the Hon. Robert W. Mayhew and Mrs. Mayhew, Mrs. Percy B. Scurreh, Miss Gwen Scott, Miss Olive Heritage, Mrs. Max Young, Miss Inez Mitchell, Mrs. Will Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stephen, Mrs. Elza Mayhew, Mrs. I. M. Carlslake, Mrs. E. L. Adames, Mrs. P. S. Widdup, Mrs. Ina D. D. Unthoff, Mrs. J. W. Benning, Jr., Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs. A. S. Nation, Col. and Mrs. R. W. Braide, Cmdr. and Mrs. A. J. Tullis, Alec McBain, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. E. Lansdowne, Cmdr. and Mrs. A. C. Wurtzle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dowell, Miss Ethel Bruce, Miss Carole Slater, Mrs. G. Anstey, Mr. and Mrs. H. Steggles, Mrs. Don Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Johns.

Grapes to the Fore at Showing

Vintage of the grape is not only found in the wine cellar! This was proven Thursday at first fashion showings of the season in Hudson's Bay Douglas Room.

Theme was "Vintage Brilliant" and presented were autumn "styles, elegant and feminine, varying from shapeless coats to sparkling cocktail frocks." Showings continue today and will be repeated morning and afternoon on Saturday.

Leading off the parade were coats and suits, with the relaxed silhouette taking the fore. Heading the collection of toppers was a classic clutch in Blin and Blin fabric. In striking black, the slim coat featured a wide mink banded collar-come-hood, the latter framing the face to give feminine appeal.

For the business woman, an imported two-piece outfit in nut brown houndstooth check jersey was modelled, also the popular jacket dresses that gain in popularity with each season. They go anywhere, anytime. Portraits in black were the strikingly sophisticated styles for late day and evening wear. A matte silk sheath dress with bodice featuring a lace gilet and cowl neckline was a versatile number. It was topped with a black and white fox capelet. Ribbon and sequins enhanced the bodice of another sleeveless black sheath in Mariko pure silk. A daring black veil and velvet cocktail hat and white fox capelet completed ensemble.

Another popular presentation was a scarlet lace sheath jacket dress, by Brodtkin, perfect for dinner or for cocktails or dancing. A fluffy swansdown chapeau in dome shape completed this ensemble.

For winter's glittering social calendar showing includes a collection of elegant ball gowns.

Finale of the presentation was a bridal entourage with bride's mother in a pure silk sheath delineated with an applique design of Guipure lace; bridesmaids wearing full skirted, bustle back frocks in rich jewel tones of plum, grape and silvered turquoise.

A bridal gown of silk-faille had billowing Queen Anne skirt outlined with hand-clipped applique lace and lover's knot trim and beading out into panniers on either side, that extended into a sweeping train.

ATLAS MISSILE USES NEW SET OF 'BRAINS'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force Atlas Missile carrying a new nose cone flew more than 5,000 miles to a target in the South Atlantic today.
The air force said the thunderous pre-dawn shot "proved successful" in its test of an all-inertial guidance system—the most advanced set of steering "brains" ever installed in a U.S. rocket.
The Atlas shot followed 12 hours on the heels of another success by the navy's submarine-launched Polaris ballistic missile. The Atlas is already combat-ready, and the Polaris soon will be.

Flying Columns For CD Crisis

OTTAWA (CP) — Army headquarters has devised a master plan for organization and location of the 66 mobile columns it will form for civil defence operations, informed sources said Thursday.

The plan now is in the hands of the army's four major commands across the country for study and comment. It has not yet been formally adopted or approved by the government.

RESPONSIBILITIES
The army assumed its new responsibilities for civil defence—or national survival, as the army calls it—Sept. 1, 1959. No mobile columns are yet functioning.
Forty-four of the mobile columns will be drawn from the militia and 22 from the regular army. They will be of battalion group size, some 800 men.

MAIN TASKS
Main tasks of these columns will be radiation detection, reconnaissance and rescue, known as the Triple-R assignment.

The army has already stocked enough radiation detection equipment to supply the mobile columns. But some transport vehicles remain to be acquired.

The mobile columns will be located outside major cities and target areas so that they would be able to swing into rescue action immediately. This will mean emphasis on militia units which have their headquarters in small towns.
RCAE auxiliary squadrons equipped with light transport planes will also be used in the national survival role. The government now has on order planes for this purpose.

Japanese Ready Now To Give Ike Welcome

OTTAWA (CP)—Japan's Foreign Minister Kosaka said Thursday he believes there would be no recurrence of the riots and disorders of last May and June if President Eisenhower visited Japan today.
He said he believes the Japanese people have reflected on the events that preceded cancellation of Mr. Eisenhower's visit to Japan and that the American president would be given a hearty welcome.

90 MINUTES
Mr. Kosaka, who is here for talks with External Affairs Minister Green, spoke at a press conference through an interpreter. He held a 90-minute conference with Mr. Green and spent about 20 minutes earlier with Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Salesmen Testify CHEK-TV Sought Mainland Business

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Vancouver advertising salesmen testified today that they were approached by television station CHEK-TV in Victoria concerning employment in the Vancouver area.

Gerry Altman, a salesman for radio station CKNW, and Peter Kosick, vice-president and general sales manager of CKLG and a former CKNW salesman, said they had been approached by David Armstrong, president of CHEK. They made the statements under oath at a board of broadcast governors inquiry into alleged commercial practices in Vancouver said to be in contravention of undertakings given by CHEK concerning advertising solicitation.

Mr. Altman said he was told by Mr. Armstrong last March that "business was there to be had in Vancouver."

He said Mr. Armstrong told him last March CHEK expected to have 20 to 25 per cent of the greater Vancouver television audience within a short time and that he believed $175,000 to $225,000 of advertising business would be available.

Mr. Altman said he asked Mr. Armstrong what the BBG would say.

"Mr. Armstrong said he would look after that," Mr. Altman said.

READS TRANSCRIPT

At the beginning of the hearing, BBG counsel William Pearson read the transcript of a hearing last January in which Mr. Armstrong told the board that CHEK had no intention of soliciting advertising in the greater Vancouver area.

Mr. Kosick also said he talked to Mr. Armstrong about this matter.

"Mr. Armstrong said he had the matter in hand and not to worry about that," Mr. Kosick said.

CHURCH PARADE SUNDAY TO FIRST UNITED

RCAF to Honor the Dauntless 'Few'

This weekend all units of the RCAF will observe Battle of Britain Sunday to mark the successful fight of the dauntless "few" against the full-but insufficient—might of Hitler's Luftwaffe.

Major service will be in Ottawa, where 1,400 air force personnel will assemble on Parliament Hill. The salute will be taken by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who also will inspect the guard of honor and address the gathering.

During the ceremony jet aircraft of the RCAF, including the Golden Hawks stunt team, will dip low over the Peace Tower. Motionless below them will be a Spitfire and Hurricane, the famed planes which bore the brunt of the air fighting for Britain 20 years ago.

Here in Victoria officers and other ranks of 2455 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron (Auxiliary), led by the unit band, will parade to First United Church for the 11 a.m. service to be conducted by Rev. A. I. Higgins.

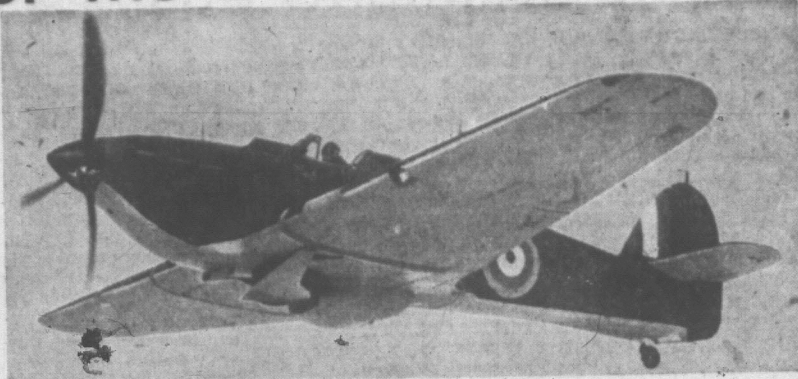

Roman Catholic members will attend mass at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 11 a.m.

After the services the units will parade to the Cenotaph where Sqdn. Ldr. D. B. Ascott, CD, commanding officer of the unit, will lay a wreath in memory of those killed in the battle.

At RCAF Station, Comox, all personnel will take part in a church parade.

Bomber Attacks

It will be recalled that starting July 10, 1940, just about six weeks after completion of the Dunkirk evacuation, the Luftwaffe launched heavy bomber attacks against Britain.

THE HURRICANE... 20 years ago.

The cost was too great, and they were given up by Germany Aug. 19. By Aug. 24 German fighter aircraft entered the battle in an attempt to win air supremacy over the English Channel and launch an invasion.

Pressure Eased

Sept. 15 was the day Germany's heaviest bomber losses marked the beginning of the end for the Luftwaffe, and although attacks continued, by the end of October pressure on Fighter Command had eased.

The Battle of Britain has special significance for the RCAF because it marked the first time a squadron of the Canadian service flew into action against an enemy. The names of 47 Canadians are inscribed on the honor roll in Westminster Abbey.

Ike in Hospital For Annual Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower entered Walter Reed army hospital Thursday night for the first round of his annual head-to-toe physical examination. He will be 70 Oct. 14.

GEORGE BONNER
... let's investigate

'Deadly Moaning Sound' Of Mill Keeps Him Awake

(From Duncan Bureau)

NORTH COWICHAN — A letter complaining of a "deadly moaning sound" emanating from the MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. sawmill at Chemainus was forwarded by North Cowichan council to the company, but with little hope of action being taken.

The complainant, W. C. Mainwaring, a Chemainus taxi operator, said the noise continued for 24 hours each day and kept him awake all night. It is caused by metal bins that it could greatly increase its revenue with no thought for the unfortunate residents near the mill, whose property has been greatly reduced in value," he wrote.

When council agreed to send the letter on to the manager of the big mill, Coun. Gerald Smith remarked that although Mr. Mainwaring is one of the few Chemainus residents who does not work for the company, "he wouldn't have much business if there was no mill."

Council agreed to offer Cowichan District 65 school board a site at Maple Bay, adjoining the small municipal park, for construction of a school. The board is planning new schools to replace the eight rooms at Fairbridge School, which will not be available after the current school year.

ISLAND DIGEST

WHEN ARE THEY GOING TO START COMPETING

'Railways' Wedded Bliss All Wrong'

COBBLE HILL—Bitter complaints of the Canadian National Railways "lining itself up" with the opposing CPR were voiced here this week by George E. Bonner, active critic of railway operations.

He based his argument on the announcement that both railroads rejected a conciliation board report recommending a total 14 cents per hour wage increase for 118,000 non-operating railway employees. "This should be investigated," he said.

"I ask you—what right has the CNR to go along with the CPR in a matter like this?" he said. "The CNR is owned by the people of Canada—including those for whom a wage increase was recommended."

Mr. Bonner, now 79 years of age and just as keenly interested as ever in matters which affect the man on the street, said he recalled an election in 1906 which Sir Wilfrid Laurier won on the basis of providing competition for the CPR.

START COMPETING

"The CNR was not intended to be married to the CPR, and it is high time it started competing," he said. "We have had too much of their acting together. There should be some free enterprise in the railroad business in Canada."

In spite of his outspoken criticism of railways, Mr. Bonner continues to act as agent for the E and N Railway here, a post he has had for many years. He has objected vigorously to anything the railroad has done on Vancouver Island which he thinks is harmful to the island, and constantly "nags" the E and N to improve its rail services.

SOMENOS FEARS FLOODS AFTER BOARD DISBANDS

DUNCAN—Dissolution of Somenos Drainage Board Sept. 9 will mean the three-mile ditch dug by the board will fill with silt and reclaimed lands will flood, it is feared by board members.

The 60 members of the group have been anxious to disband, but seek reorganization on a much larger scale to include Duncan, the Community Centre, Cowichan High School, and farming areas, and make all subject to drainage tax.

Trustees are John Robison, chairman; Reeve Donald C. Morton and Cmdr. G. S. Windeyer.

CONFUSION

Atomic Sub 'Missing'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Confusion over communication plans resulted in a flurry of excitement Thursday about the United States Navy atomic submarine Scorpion, engaging in a NATO manoeuvre 300 miles west of Ireland.

At one point, the admiralty in London announced there had been no radio contact with the Scorpion for more than 24 hours. An alert was broadcast to ships, planes and shore stations to listen for the submarine's radio signals.

After some hours, U.S. Navy headquarters here said the Scorpion was not supposed to receive or send any messages until the early morning hours of Sept. 18. The Scorpion sent a message Sept. 13 saying she was diving and would remain out of contact until early Sunday morning.

At one point after the Scorpion radioed that message the British commander of the NATO exercise sent a message directed to the Scorpion merely asking how the exercise was going. This message was sent blindly, on the chance that the Scorpion might receive it and answer.

However, at some other echelon of command it was noticed that the Scorpion had failed to acknowledge or reply to the message. Someone then sent an administrative-type broadcast alert, requesting that any point which heard from the Scorpion report that fact.

With this explanation made, the navy here declared it had no anxiety over the welfare of the Scorpion—and would not until after next Sunday when she is due to come up and establish radio contact.

Fire District Extension Approved by Ratepayers

NORTH COWICHAN — The proposed extension of three fire protection districts—South End (near Duncan), Chemainus, and Maple Bay—was approved by North Cowichan ratepayers when three bylaws were passed Thursday.

Out of Bounds

DUNCAN—William R. Bryant, Anacortes, was fined $10 and $5.50 costs in Duncan court Thursday when he pleaded guilty to fishing in a restricted area.

A fisheries officer said it was foggy in the area concerned, near the CNR wharf at Cowichan Bay, but that the man was 900 feet beyond the fishing boundary.

Big Boost In Tourists

DUNCAN — While tourist traffic was down in some parts of the Island, inquiries at Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce tourist bureau here were up an average of 100 per cent over last year.

Secretary, Eric Robinson reported a total of 1,509 inquiries handled this summer, the bulk during July and August when the bureau was open 12 hours a day.

Inquiries from American residents were up 90 per cent over last year, while B.C. traffic at the bureau increased by 200 per cent.

DUNCAN CHAMBER HEARS REQUEST

'Third Ferry Needed'

(From Duncan Bureau) B.C. government should put a third ship to work on its Sidney-Tsawwassen ferry run, Charles Beadnell said this week at a meeting of Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce.

The new service has proved itself and the two present ferries are having a difficult time handling all passengers and cars needing transportation, he said.

BIG ASSET

"They are crowded to capacity on many occasions, and particularly on weekends and holidays," Mr. Beadnell said. "I think a third ferry would be a good idea. Certainly the service has been a big asset to the lower part of Vancouver Island."

Denis Mason Hurley, tourist committee chairman, said traffic through Nanaimo on the Black Ball Ferries had dropped 48 per cent, and CPR traffic 50 per cent, since the government ferries started.

HARD ON NANAIMO

He described the situation as a "rough blow" for Nanaimo, but one that may only be temporary.

"I don't think anyone anticipated this kind of drop-off," he said, "but I think business on the Nanaimo ferries will pick up as soon as the novelty of the new government service wears off."

Island tourist business as a whole might lose through the new service, he said. Tourists are "sightseeing and cutting their stay on the Island short rather than staying for a day or two, he said."

Garden Prizes

DUNCAN — Valley Garden Club has arranged to present prizes for its annual city and district garden contest at the Oct. 12 meeting.

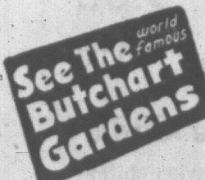

Speakers at the Wednesday meeting were Clare Brynjolfson, president, who discussed cultivation of chrysanthemums, and J. W. Parkinson, who outlined September work in the garden.

Does K Want to 'Make Up' With Eisenhower?

LONDON (UPI)—Soviet diplomats hinted today that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wants a reconciliation with President Eisenhower. They raised the possibility Khrushchev will make an indirect approach to set up a private meeting with Eisenhower during the United Nations General Assembly.

This correspondent asked whether Khrushchev now felt he had gone too far in his personal attacks on Eisenhower at the Summit Conference in Paris last spring. "Mr. Khrushchev was very angry at the time," was the reply, implying that the Soviet premier now was ready to take another look at the situation.

There were hints there might be another intriguing aspect of Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations—that he may make overtures for personal meetings with presidential candidates Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Senator John F. Kennedy. That apparently would depend on whether things go well for the Soviet premier after he arrives in New York on Monday. In any event, he is expected to avoid any action that could be interpreted as an attempt to influence the course of the U.S. presidential elections this fall.

Meetings with Nixon and Kennedy would have to overcome some obstacles of geography. Khrushchev's movements have been restricted to Manhattan Island by the U.S. state department. But there appears to be some desire on the part of the Russians to get first-hand impressions of the two men who are running for the presidency.

Recalling that Khrushchev referred to Eisenhower in strong language in Paris ("A thief caught red-handed in his theft"), the question was asked how the overture for a reconciliation would be put to the American president.

"There are various ways in which it could be done," was the reply.

The implication was that the Russians were not overly concerned about the method to be used and might even already have worked out the procedure. There have been indications for several days that Khrushchev was taking a soft line toward Eisenhower and today Tass news agency carried a message from Khrushchev's ship, Baltika, quoting the premier as predicting an era of "better times" in the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet leader made a significant move when he recently specifically exonerated Eisenhower from responsibility for the U-2 plane incident which he used to torpedo the summit conference in Paris last May.

Khrushchev told U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson last week at a Kremlin cocktail party that he still believed

HOW FIVE YEARS EFFORT ENDED

The $4.5 million racing car Bluebird II looked like this today after it had tipped over three times at 300 m.p.h. during a test run at the Bonneville Salt

Flats. Donald Campbell, British speed king, was only slightly hurt and said he wants to make another attempt at the world record of 394 m.p.h.

'Bluebird' Wrecked Speed King Injured

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (Reuters)—British speed king Donald Campbell was injured today when his 4,250-horsepower Bluebird racing car cracked up during a trial run over the salt flats here.

Observers at the scene said Campbell had been hurt critically, but police later reported his injuries were not as serious as at first thought.

Campbell was taken to Tooele Hospital, 80 miles from the flats, in an ambulance with police escort.

He had a severe gash over the left eye and could not reply to questions by policemen and officials.

His wife, Tonie, was at the scene and rode to hospital by his side in the ambulance.

On arrival at the hospital, Campbell walked from the ambulance.

Peter Carr, the alternate driver for the 4,250-horsepower Bluebird, said Campbell recovered his speech when he came out of shock soon after getting into the ambulance.

He said Campbell told him he did not know what had happened to the car except that it began spinning when he reached about 300 miles an hour and was still accelerating.

Bluebird had made a run of 300 mph down the 10-mile course and 34 minutes later headed back toward the starting point. It had gone about three miles when it went into a massive spin in powdery salt.

The car flipped three times, travelled about a quarter of a mile, then righted itself. But it had lost two wheels and the metal body was completely crumpled.

Tommy Wisdom of the Bluebird crew said mournfully: "It's all over. The car's gone."

SAW FATHER RACE
Twenty-five years ago today Campbell, then 15, watched his father, the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, become the first man to travel better than 300 mph, driving over the same salt flats.

The younger Campbell, now 39, is aiming at a new world auto speed record. The accident happened during the fifth in a series of progressively faster runs, working toward the 394.196 mark set here in 1947 by Sir John Cobb of England.

Meanwhile, there is no word on how the vote went at the railway whistle-stop of Bennett.

Yale is the closest contest. With all polls in Social Creditor Irvine Corbett, a member of the last legislature, has a lead of only 37 votes.

He's got 1,086 to 1,049 for CCFer Evan McDougall. Liberal John Collett isn't far behind with 945.

In 1956 there were 270 absentee votes.

In Atlin, Calder picked up his biggest gain from the Indian village of Aiyansh, where he got all 72 votes. He also won all five votes cast in Canyon City.

SASK. URGES NATIONAL RAIL SUBSIDY

OTTAWA (CP)—Saskatchewan today called for a national transportation subsidy for the railways and advocated creation of a new Canadian transportation authority to regulate railway and inter-provincial trucking on an equal basis.

The two recommendations are contained in a three-part brief submitted to the Macpherson royal commission on transportation.

In proposing a new transportation authority to replace the present board of transport commissioners, Saskatchewan said it should also co-ordinate all forms of transportation in Canada—railways, planes, trucks and pipelines.

Colombo Plan' Aid
For Africa Proposed

LONDON (CP)—First steps toward a "Colombo Plan for Africa" may emerge at the conference of Commonwealth finance ministers opening in London next Tuesday.

The project, still shadowy in outline, was first mentioned last May at the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers. It was broached by Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and seconded by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Published reports in London today suggest that the plan has caught Diefenbaker's imagination, and that the Canadian prime minister has sent Finance Minister Fleming to London with firm instructions to support the proposal for financial aid to Africa along the lines of the Colombo Plan for countries in Southeast Asia.

The Guardian says Fleming has a "mandate to give a firm commitment to such a scheme if other delegates agree to contribute as well."

Speaking to reporters today at Canada House, Fleming said Canada will expect to "play her full part" in any plans for financial aid to Africa that may be drawn up at next week's meeting.

He also came firmly down against any suggestions that Canada will lightly relinquish for European economic integration.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief of staff, warned today he will arrest and expel Soviet and Czech Embassy members unless they get out of the country by noon Saturday.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu consolidated his military rule of the Congo today, but the Soviet Embassy said it would ignore his statement that the Soviet and other Communist bloc diplomatic missions should leave by night-fall.

An embassy spokesman said "We are not accredited to Col. Mobutu. We are officially accredited to the Congolese Republic and its chief of state Mr. Joseph Kasavubu."

NOT NOTIFIED
"Col. Mobutu, in any case," the spokesman added, "has not notified us officially of any statement which he might have made concerning the embassy."

Mobutu told a news conference Wednesday night that the army was seizing power and "neutralizing" the activities of President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba until the end of the year. He added parliament also was being taken over. And he gave the Soviet, Czech and

PM Names 3-Man Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker appointed a royal commission today on government operations "to promote economies and to recommend cuts in expenditures consistent with maintenance of essential services."

J. Grant Glasco of Toronto will be chairman.

Watson Selar, 67-year-old retired auditor-general of Canada, and Eugene Therrien, 54-year-old Montreal insurance company executive and lawyer, will be the other members.

Mr. Diefenbaker, making the announcement verbally following a cabinet meeting, said the commission will be asked to make interim reports on its examination with a final report in two years.

The commission will study all federal departments, Crown corporations, government agencies and boards.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will make an announcement Saturday morning on a commission on Canadian publications, which he had expected also to announce today.

POWER COMPANY HEAD
Mr. Glasco is a chartered accountant and executive vice-president and director of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited. He is 55.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the commission is charged with "tremendous responsibilities" to propose those changes in government operations that it considers will promote efficiency, economy and improved service in the dispatch of public business.

Purpose of the study will be to eliminate duplication and overlapping of services, to get rid of unnecessary and uneconomical operations, to promote efficiency and economy through decentralization of operations and administration, to improve departmental and agency management including methods of work and definitions of the extent of authority, and to make more effective use of budgeting and accounting procedures.

IMMEDIATE START
In addition, the purpose will be to improve efficiency and economy by altering relations between the government departments and agencies on one hand and treasury board and other central control and service agencies.

Treasury board is a committee of senior cabinet ministers and civil service officials which examines proposed expenditures before parliament is asked for the money to undertake the work.

He said he expects the commission will begin work immediately and appealed to all Canadians, to business and professional organizations and to anyone with ideas of achieving the objects of the inquiry to prepare written submissions for the commission.

The prime minister stressed that the commission's powers do not extend to parliament. This provision is written into its terms of reference, set out in an order in council passed by the cabinet today.

HE TOLD THE WORLD
The legal notices in a Los Angeles newspaper Thursday were graced with a neat switch. Ray Ogden, auto salesman, ran an ad in capital letters announcing he was responsible for all the debts and obligations of his wife, Margaret, "a woman who has borne me two fine children and listened patiently to all my gripes" for the past 21 years. B.C. Drowning
KAMLOOPS (CP)—A fisherman was believed drowned today when he fell from a boat in the choppy waters of Kamloops Lake near Copper Creek, 17 miles west of here. Police and skin divers were attempting to locate the body of the man, whose identity was not released.

Atlin Win Sparks New CCF Hopes

Victory assured in northern Atlin, the CCF today set sights on winning three more seats in final counts next week to clean up B.C.'s election results.

The CCF now has 16 seats, Social Credit 32, Liberals 4.

Frank Calder, 45, became the only Indian member of the legislature today as returns from four late polls in Atlin gave him an 84-vote edge over Social Creditor William Asseltine.

Mr. Calder, who lost the seat to Mr. Asseltine in 1956, got a total of 334 votes; Mr. Asseltine 250; Conservative Charles J. Brown 119.

ONLY 11 VOTERS
One poll to come, at Ford's Cove, has only 11 registered voters.

Now the CCF is eyeing Nanaimo, Comox and Yale, where on the basis of the uncounted absentee vote alone, their candidates have a chance of overtaking slim Social Credit leads.

If the absentee votes—to be counted Sept. 24—don't clear the picture, recounts are expected.

In Comox more than 1,000 absentee votes are possible.

Social Creditor Dan Campbell has a lead of 116, with 5,801 votes to 5,685 for CCFer Fred Wood.

In the 1956 election a total of 1,122 absentee votes appeared at the tail end of the counting. A similar total this year would throw the race wide open.

LEAD OF 112
In Nanaimo, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood has a 112 lead. He got 4,475 votes to 4,363 for Colin Cameron of the CCF. In 1956 there were 318 absentee votes. It's estimated there will be 500 this year.

Both these ridings are heavily populated with fishermen and loggers, and trends in Monday's polling showed their communities favored the CCF.

Yale is the closest contest. With all polls in Social Creditor Irvine Corbett, a member of the last legislature, has a lead of only 37 votes.

He's got 1,086 to 1,049 for CCFer Evan McDougall. Liberal John Collett isn't far behind with 945.

COMMISSIONER HAWKINS
... look at the record

CAPTAIN DISCOVERY BOOSTS TOURIST FLOW, SAYS HAWKINS

'You Can't Call That Swashbuckler a Pirate!'

Victoria Publicity Bureau Commissioner William Hawkins, whose methods are under fire by some Junior Chamber of Commerce officials, today said that increases in tourist business here speak for the methods.

He was criticized by retiring Jaycee president Peter Forward and Jack Urquhart for dropping the 40-year-old "Follow the Birds to Victoria" slogan and substituting one describing Vancouver Island as a "Treasure Island" with the traditional seagull motif replaced by a swashbuckling seafarer of old, named Captain Discovery.

"We are happy that Mr. Forward and Mr. Urquhart have taken an interest in the tourist business. We are always happy to receive both criticisms and suggestions for improvement," said Mr. Hawkins.

"Our tourist business shows a very healthy growth for the three months in 1960. June was up 11 per cent, July 40 per cent and August increased 155 per cent in tourist traffic."

Mr. Hawkins said the Captain Discovery motif had been praised by numerous persons in the tourist business including John Fisher, Canada's best-known tourist promoter.

Mr. Hawkins also bristled at the suggestion that the Captain Discovery motif suggested Victorians were pirates.

"At the risk of appearing 'pedantic', to use Mr. Forward's own word, I would like to point out that Captain Discovery was an authentic character, a gentleman of definite distinction and naval accomplishment who represented the Royal Navy in the discovery of the west coast.

"Discovery Passage was named after him and he was far from being a pirate."

Mr. Hawkins said the old slogan was resented by up-island communities while the new slogan encourages tourists to the entire Island with special emphasis on Victoria as the gateway.

"Perhaps it might be said that we have lost a slogan and gained an Island!"

Mr. Hawkins disputed Mr. Forward's contention that everyone knew Victoria was the tourist attraction on Vancouver Island.

"It is not my intention to criticize Mr. Forward's zeal but I do think the Island communities who share our interest in tourism would find his approach parochial; to say the least.

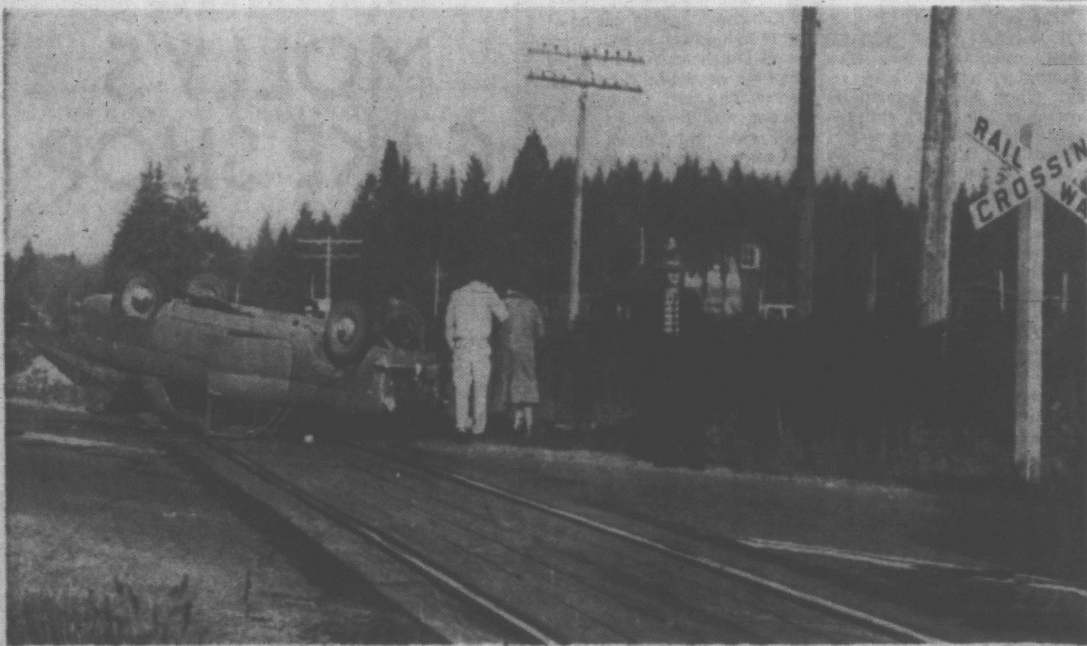

"We gain as much from co-operation with the Island communities as they gain from us. The state of Hawaii, Austria and other regions have gained world-wide recognition for their tourist efforts and their successes by appeal on a wide base, not by each community vying with each other to the detriment of all others."

SUDDEN STOP AT A CORNER when a parked bus was noted on Cowichan Lake Road at 7:45 a.m. today caused light car to skid, roll, and come to rest on its top across railroad tracks. Ambulance was called from Duncan, five miles east, but car driver,

G. W. Peck, 18, of Duncan, was not injured. Damage was $250. Regulations now in force require all vehicles to stop, in both directions, when in vicinity of stopped school bus. (Photo for Times by D'Arcy Rickard.)

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A special meeting of Esquimalt Council will be held tonight to discuss plans for the municipality's proposed sports centre.

Six sets of plans were originally submitted by contractors for the $400,000 project but the list has been narrowed down, leaving three plans for consideration. Two are from Victoria firms and one from a Nanaimo firm.

If a decision is reached tonight it is likely the matter will be raised in open council Monday.

All dinghies and small boats must be removed from the outer floats by next Thursday at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club to enable floats to be repaired, officials said today.

The summer season ends Sept. 24, "haul-out day."

Brake failure on a 10-ton crane caused the Tuesday accident which injured crane operator Vernon Edgelow, Yarrows Ltd. officials said Thursday.

Edgelow was hospitalized one day with shoulder injuries after the crane overturned while making a two-ton lift.

Firemen from both Sidney and Central Saanich volunteer departments Thursday pumped thousands of gallons of water on a brush fire on West Saanich Road which devastated two acres.

The blaze started near the home of Herman Henry, 8537 West Saanich Road, on the Cole Bay Indian reserve. The blaze was believed to have been started by a smouldering stump.

Close to 600 persons Thursday night attended an Oak Bay fire department "open house" to see a new fire truck which Fire Chief William Pearson recently drove to Victoria from Montreal.

Greater Victoria fire departments were represented. Gear carried by the Oak Bay department's rescue truck was also on display. It was donated by Oak Bay Kiwanis Club.

New president of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society is Charles Cameron.

He was installed Thursday, succeeding Blanche Grant. Other officers installed were Kay Inglis, first vice-president; Jack Dirom, second vice-president; Georgina MacKay, secretary; Mrs. Daisie Featherstone, financial secretary, and Mrs. Maude Blades, treasurer.

Members of the Prince Albert Association—former residents of the Saskatchewan city—are invited to a picnic Sunday to be held in Stanley Park, Vancouver.

The intermediate group of the Junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Monterey restaurant parking lot for a trail-making session at Francis Park, Munn Road.

Interest in Civil Defence training courses is booming. This week, 45 new members of the CD organization registered for basic orientation and warden's courses, and 34 for auxiliary police training.

This was the highest number to register in the history of the organization here.

The 37-year history of Malvern House School, Richmond Road, will be marked Saturday by a flag-raising ceremony conducted by Rev. Angus Cameron, school padre.

Parents of pupils, old boys, and pupils themselves will attend the 3 p.m. ceremony.

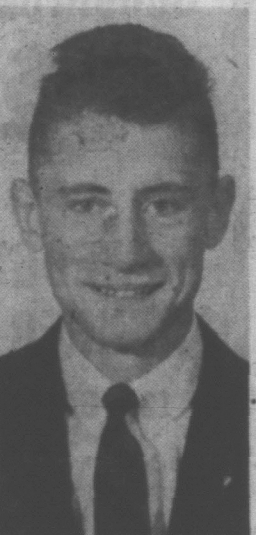

At the same time a plaque at the school's entrance bearing the school motto "Nil Sine Labore"—Nothing Without Labor—will be unveiled.

Lionel Cayer, 1558 Charlton, was sentenced in Saanich police court Thursday to 30 days in jail when he was found guilty of vagrancy by wandering in George Park, an offence for a person previously convicted of a morals offence.

The charge was laid after Cayer was picked up at the park, Aug. 20, where in his trial he said he went to clear his head after feeling ill.

A meeting of the Dickens Fellowship set for Monday will not now take place owing to the recent death of the president, E. F. Wetherston. Next meeting will be Oct. 17.

The C.P.R. Veterans' Association will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Crystal Garden.

FIVE YEARS AN ARMY CADET with the Canadian Scottish and at University School, Peter Lund, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lund, 1430 Newport, has started 36 weeks of training under the army's officer candidate training program at Camp Borden, Ont. He is taking his instruction with the armoured corps. His older brother, Wilfred, is a second-year officer cadet at HMCS Venture.

PARENT TEACHER MEETINGS

A general discussion on problems of children will be held Sept. 19 at 8 p.m. by Burnside PTA in the school auditorium.

First meeting of the season by Toimie PTA will be at 8 p.m. Sept. 19, at the school. There will be installation of officers followed by a social evening.

Discussion of the school curriculum will be featured Sept. 19 at the meeting of Happy Valley PTA.

New Fire Hall Studied For Burnside

City fire warden's committee today decided to investigate desirability of closing No. 2 fire hall at Burnside and Douglas and building a new one several blocks west.

Fire Chief James Baylis was requested to report to the next meeting on the proposal.

Under the suggested change, a $60,000 fire hall would be built on the old Rock Bay School site at John and Turner. The property was turned over to the city by the provincial government several months ago at a nominal fee for use as a fire hall site.

The existing No. 2 fire hall at Burnside and Douglas would be closed and the property put up for sale to help offset cost of the new building.

Ald. Arthur Dowell said the move would be a good thing because the new location would give faster service to the Victoria West area.

Fire warden's chairman, Ald. Hugh Ramsay, said the present No. 2 fire hall operations are suffering increasing interference from traffic congestion at the busy corner.

City council will have to decide whether to purchase an 18-foot strip on the northeast corner of Cook and Pandora to allow straightening of the intersection.

Finance committee was unable to agree on the step, described by Ald. Ramsay as the "key" to solving the north-bound traffic bottleneck and eventual widening of Cook north of the intersection.

He said a serious traffic problem existed because Cook was 100 feet wide south of the intersection and only 66 feet wide north of it. There also was a westward jog created by the intersection.

But Mayor Percy Scurrell and Ald. Dowell both said purchase of the strip would make a whole corner lot unusable. They doubted that future traffic patterns would use Cook enough to justify costly widening.

Finance committee recommended approval of a $100 grant to the Corps of Imperial Frontiersmen which provides policing services for various public gatherings.

ESQUIMALT NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Saguenay and Ottawa returned today.

Fortune, Miramichi return Sept. 20.
Cowichan returns Sept. 19.

MOST-WANTED MAN SANE; FACES TRIAL

Daniel William O'Connor will be transferred from Essondale to Oakalla Prison Farm to await trial on a charge of attempting to murder an RCMP officer, under a provincial cabinet order today.

O'Connor, who was committed to Essondale May 12, has been declared sane.

He was on the RCMP's most-wanted list for five years after a constable was pistol-whipped in 1953 during a forgery investigation. O'Connor was returned to Canada in 1958 from San Diego when identified through fingerprints.

New Town Forming In North

A provincial cabinet order today was the first step toward carving a new town out of the forest wilderness of B.C.'s northland.

Land and Forests Minister Ray Williston said the new community will be set up 12 miles north of Summit Lake, about 40 miles from Prince George.

The cabinet order lifted part of the Crooked River forest reserve to allow establishment of town.

Mr. Williston said the community is being set up mainly for loggers and their families. He said there will be some 60 to 80 families involved.

"Eventually there could be 100," he said.

FIRST OF ITS KIND
"This is a new idea," he said. "It's the first of its kind in the province."

The project is a joint one by half a dozen local logging operators, education, health and welfare officials, and the government's lands and forests department.

Mr. Williston said the project "has nothing to do" with the nearby Pacific Northern Railway, which starts at Summit Lake and runs northwest toward the Yukon border.

However, it is possible that the line might join the new community, he said.

Next step to setting it up will be public auction of subdivided lots on a 25.4-acre area of Crown land, he said.

Logging operators have agreed to build roads. Eventually a waterworks system will be provided, using the lake.

VARIETY OF INDUSTRY

The new town will be a centre for a wide area of operations, including several possible future sites for mill development.

Go-Ahead Given Gas Lines

Two northern B.C. projects received government approval today to start construction.

B.C. Power Commission was given permission to build a seven-mile gas pipeline and Gas Trunk Line of B.C. Ltd. got the go-ahead on a 100-mile line.

The hydro project is the public utility's first venture into the natural gas business.

It will build a line from a well seven miles outside Fort Nelson to its generating station there.

Providing gas service to some 200 customers in Fort Nelson was one of the conditions under which the power commission took over the area from Northland Utilities Ltd.

The other pipeline is from Fort Nelson to Chetwynd, with branches from Taylor to gas fields at Boundary Lake, and to the Laprise fields near the Alberta border.

Injuries Fatal To City Woman

9th Traffic Fatality This Year

Greater Victoria traffic fatalities rose to nine today with the death early this morning of Mrs. Gertrude B. Buckler, 68, of 1015 Collinson.

She died in the Royal Jubilee Hospital at 6:45 a.m. from head injuries and shock received when her car collided with another vehicle driven by Ernest F. Marshall, 958 Victoria.

She was hurled 12 feet to the pavement from her small car in the accident which occurred at Fort and Cook Wednesday at 8:22 p.m.

Mr. Marshall and a passenger, John E. Boyle, 27, of 2375 Rosario, suffered from minor injuries and shock.

THIRD IN CITY

Mrs. Buckler is the third traffic fatality of the year for Victoria proper but the ninth in the Greater Victoria area.

She is also the second woman to die as the result of a traffic accident within two weeks. On Sept. 7, Mrs. Annie Jane Mayne, 1900 Neil, died of injuries received in a traffic accident at Fairfield and Foul Bay on Sept. 1. She also was thrown from a car.

Mrs. Buckler was well known here. For many years she was organist at Grace Lutheran Church.

Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart said an inquest will be held next week, the day to be announced later.

Mrs. Buckler is survived by the husband, John, four daughters, Mrs. Evelyn G. S. Eden, Mrs. Frank Typman, Mrs. W. Martin, all of Victoria, and Mrs. Clarice Pendray of Vancouver, one brother, Harold, of Tacoma.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Sands Mortuary Ltd.

U.S. Cutter Here

The U.S. Coastguard cutter Klamath will visit Victoria from 1 p.m. Saturday to 11 a.m. Sunday. It has not yet been decided where the vessel—a large ocean-going type—will berth.

Nav, Air Force Officers Finish Anti-Sub Course

Seventy officers from the RCN and the RCAF have just completed a two-week refresher course in anti-submarine warfare at Esquimalt Naval Base.

The class has been under instruction by Cmdr. W. M. Kidd, RCN; Wing Cmdr. H. M. Miller, RCAF, and nine directors from the Joint Maritime Warfare School, Halifax.

The class comprised 40 officers from the 2nd and 4th Canadian Escort Squadrons and 30 aircrew officers of 407 Squadron, RCAF, Comox.

More Fog to Roll Into City Tonight

Air travellers today continued to be the chief sufferers from fog that has persisted here since Wednesday morning.

Trans-Canada Air Lines again lost five departures from Patricia Bay to Vancouver, and four arrivals. First Seattle flight was delayed.

Company officials, however, said operations were back on schedule by noon.

MORE SATURDAY

The weatherman predicted a late afternoon free of fog, but said it would thicken again at 9 p.m., and persist through Saturday morning. There will be some clearance in the afternoon.

There is no hope for a change before Sunday, he said, which might possibly be sunny.

He blamed the fog on an "inversion," or stationary blanket of warm air at upper levels over the city. This traps cold air, smoke, exhaust gases and fog below it, and there is nothing to let them escape.

On two occasions one of the B.C. government ferries has been delayed up to 15 minutes by low visibility at the Swartz Bay terminal, but in each case the time was made up after a round trip.

There is no fog in Georgia Strait, ferry officials said.

Traffic movement in the city and district has been normal, and Vancouver Island Coach Lines buses have maintained schedules without trouble. Only complaints have come from waterfront residents within earshot of the lugubrious moans of foghorns.

Winds will be light again Saturday, according to the weatherman; and temperatures will range between 48 and 65 degrees.

Scholarships Offered

Thirteen $2,000 graduate scholarships for study at any British university are offered by the I.O.D.E. for 1960-61. It was announced today.

Deadline for applications is Oct. 15.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Charles Stewart, 3426 W. 34th St., Vancouver.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. How does U.S. beer compare with Canadian beer in alcoholic content? V.I.

A. Canadian beer is slightly stronger. In the U.S., 100 per cent alcohol is rated as 200 proof spirits. In Canada, 100 per cent alcohol is rated 175 proof spirits. Thus U.S. beer, 3.2 ounces by weight, is equal to 4.02 alcohol by volume, or 8.04 per cent proof spirits. In Canada, a similar 3.2 ounces by weight of course equals 4.2 by volume, but is 7.35 proof spirits, under the Canadian standard.

Q. I would appreciate it if you would clarify this. My sister Sept. 12 voted for only one candidate instead of three in Victoria. Is her ballot considered spoiled? S.M.

A. No. One can vote for one or more candidates up to the number of seats open in a given riding.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to answer questions of legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or pictures. These should be submitted to dealers.

Steelworkers Say Strike 'Provoked'

MONTREAL (CP)—The United Steelworkers of America (CLC) said today the Dominion Bridge Company Limited is using "private agents" to provoke strikers on picket lines at the company's plant in suburban Lachine. Maurice Lecavalier, representative of the union, said in a prepared statement two unidentified men entered the Lachine property this morning in cars used to transport company employees.

Red Jet 'Buzzes' British Airliner

BERLIN (UPI)—A Soviet jet fighter almost collided today with a Western charter airline transport bound for Communist-Harrassed West Berlin. The Soviet jet almost hit a British-run overseas aviation twin-engine Viking carrying passengers to West Berlin from Innsbruck, Austria. The pilot of the British plane said the Soviet jet "buzzed" him.

Eisenhower Okayed After Check-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first phase of President Eisenhower's annual physical checkup was completed today and he was pronounced in excellent health by the army's surgeon-general, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton. The president had entered Walter Reed Army Hospital Thursday evening.

SPEED KING INJURED, BLUEBIRD WRECKED

HOW FIVE YEARS EFFORT ENDED

The $4.5 million racing car Bluebird II looked like this today after it had tipped over three times at 300 m.p.h. during a test run at the Bonneville Salt

Flats. Donald Campbell, British speed king, was only slightly hurt and said he wants to make another attempt at the world record of 394 m.p.h.

RAIL SUBSIDY URGED BY SASKATCHEWAN

OTTAWA (CP)—Saskatchewan today called for a national transportation subsidy for the railways and advocated creation of a new Canadian transportation authority to regulate railway and inter-provincial trucking on an equal basis.

The two recommendations are contained in a three-part brief submitted to the MacPherson Royal Commission on Transportation.

In proposing a new transportation authority to replace the present Board of Transport Commissioners, Saskatchewan said it should also co-ordinate all forms of transportation in Canada—railways, planes, trucks and pipelines.

Government Costs Come Under Probe

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker appointed a royal commission today on government operations "to promote economies and to recommend cuts in expenditures consistent with maintenance of essential services."

J. Grant Glasco of Toronto will be chairman. Watson Sellar, 67-year-old retired auditor-general of Canada, and Eugene Therrien, 54-year-old Montreal insurance company executive and lawyer, will be the other members.

Mr. Diefenbaker, making the announcement verbally following a cabinet meeting, said the commission will make an indirect approach to set up a private

Rumor Campaign Charged by CHEK

(See also Page 27.)

VANCOUVER (CP)—CHEK-TV of Victoria told the Board of Broadcast Governors today it has been greatly harassed in its business dealings by "a campaign of rumor and defamatory fiction" about its advertising sales.

"No advertising medium can stand up indefinitely to the attrition of slander which only fear and malice can inspire and which we have suffered and are suffering," said M. L. T. Drake, counsel for the television station.

Mr. Drake was speaking at a special BBG inquiry into alleged commercial practices in Greater Vancouver said to be in contravention of undertakings given by CHEK concerning advertising solicitation. The board completed its inquiry at midday today. Chairman Dr. Andrew Stewart said the five members who conducted the inquiry will report back to the full board in Ottawa Sept. 26. After the hearing he said he expected a statement will be made by the board about Oct. 5.

Complaints had been made to the board alleging that CHEK had solicited local advertising from Vancouver area businesses since an increase in power approved by the BBG early this year brought its signal into Vancouver.

CHEK representatives said today the only advertising they had solicited in Vancouver was from firms with interests in CHEK's coverage area of Vancouver Island and the upper mainland coast.

Car Spins Out At Over 300 mph

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (Reuters)—British speed king Donald Campbell was injured today when his 4,250-horsepower Bluebird racing car cracked up during a trial run over the salt flats here.

Observers at the scene said Campbell had been hurt critically, but police later reported his injuries were not as serious as at first thought.

Campbell was taken to Tooele Hospital, 80 miles from the flats, in an ambulance with police escort.

He had a severe gash over the left eye and could not reply to questions by policemen and officials.

His wife, Toni, was at the scene and rode to hospital by his side in the ambulance.

On arrival at the hospital, Campbell walked from the ambulance.

Peter Carr, the alternate driver for the 4,250-horsepower Bluebird, said Campbell recovered his speech when he came out of shock soon after getting into the ambulance.

He said Campbell told him he did not know what had happened to the car except that it began spinning when he reached about 300 miles an hour and was still accelerating.

Bluebird had made a run of 300 mph down the 10-mile course and 34 minutes later headed back toward the starting point. It had gone about three miles when it went into a massive spin in powdery salt.

The car flipped three times, travelled about a quarter of a mile, then righted itself. But it had lost two wheels and the metal body was completely crumpled.

Tommy Wisdom of the Bluebird crew said mournfully: "It's all over. The car's gone."

SAW FATHER RACE

Twenty-five years ago today Campbell, then 15, watched his father, the late Sir Malcolm Campbell, become the first man to travel better than 300 mph, driving over the same salt flats.

The younger Campbell, now 39, is aiming at a new world auto speed record. The accident happened during the fifth in a series of progressively faster runs, working toward the 394.196 mark set here in 1947 by Sir John Cobb of England.

Army Chief Tightens Congo Grip

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Patrice Lumumba, one of the Congo's two rival premiers, is in flight, a report reaching here from Leopoldville said tonight.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief of staff, warned today he will arrest and expel Soviet and Czech Embassy members unless they get out of the country by noon Saturday.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Col. Joseph Mobutu consolidated his military rule of the Congo today, but the Soviet Embassy said it would ignore his statement that the Soviet and other Communist bloc diplomatic missions should leave.

An embassy spokesman said: "We are not accredited to Col. Mobutu. We are officially accredited to the Congolese Republic and its chief of state Mr. Joseph Kasavubu."

Mobutu told a news conference Wednesday night that the army was seizing power and "neutralizing" the activities of President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba until the end of the year. He added parliament also was being taken over. And he gave the Soviet, Czech and Does Khrushchev Want to 'Make Up' With Ike?

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Soviet diplomat, hinted today that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wants a reconciliation with President Eisenhower. They raised the possibility Khrushchev will make an indirect approach to set up a private meeting with Eisenhower during the UN session.

This correspondent asked whether Khrushchev now felt he had gone too far in his personal attacks on Eisenhower at the Summit Conference in Paris last spring.

"Mr. Khrushchev was very angry at the time," was the reply, implying that the Soviet premier now was ready to take another look at the situation.

There were hints there might be another intriguing aspect of Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations—that he may make overtures for personal meetings with presidential candidates Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Senator John F. Kennedy.

That apparently would depend on whether things go well for the Soviet premier after he arrives in New York on Monday. In any event, he is expected to influence the course of the U.S. presidential elections this fall.

Meetings with Nixon and Kennedy would have to overcome some obstacles of geography. Khrushchev's movements have been restricted to Manhattan Island by the U.S. state department. But there appears to be some desire on the part of the Russians to get first-hand impressions of the two men who are running for the presidency.

Recalling that Khrushchev referred to Eisenhower in strong language in Paris ("A thief caught red-handed in his theft"), the question was asked how the overture for a reconciliation would be put to the American president.

"There are various ways in which it could be done," was the reply.

The implication was that the Russians were not overly concerned about the method to be used and might even already have worked out procedure. There have been indications for several days that Khrushchev was taking a soft line toward Eisenhower and today Tass news agency carried a message from Khrushchev's ship, Baltika, quoting the premier as predicting an era of "better times" in the relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet leader made a significant move when he recently specifically exonerated Eisenhower from responsibility for the U-2 plane incident, which he used to torpedo the summit conference in Paris last May.

Khrushchev told U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson last week at a Kremlin cocktail party that he still believed

IF SOVIET USES VETO

U.S. May Ask UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Delegates said an emergency session of the UN General Assembly seemed likely to begin Saturday if the Security Council is unable to find a compromise on the Congo.

The diplomats expressed belief the United States would propose—and get—such a session if Russia carried out its threat to veto an American resolution that seeks to block Soviet arms from the Congo.

They predicted that a rival Soviet resolution to oust the command of the 18,000-man UN force from the African republic would fail to muster the necessary seven votes in the 11-member council.

Hopes of finding a formula to avert the threatened veto dimmed further at today's council meeting when the U.S. declared the paramount issue is whether to support the Congo role of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and "on this there can be no compromise."

Ceylonese Ambassador Sir Claude Corea called for a UN committee to seek to reconcile the feuding political factions in the Congo. He appealed to Russia and the United States to scrap their opposing resolutions before the Security Council and get together on a "united approach" to the Congo problem. But Ambassador James W. Barbo, deputy chief of the U.S. mission, told the council: "The United States stands

2 Provinces 'Flout' Probe Railways Say

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's major railways, faced with a strike vote among 118,000 "non-op" employees over a $33,000,000 wage battle, today charged the Alberta and Manitoba governments are "flouting" speed-up orders of the royal commission on transportation and stalling its final report.

CPR vice-president Ian Sinclair and CNR general counsel A. D. McDonald protested against delays in getting final briefs from the two Prairie governments and western grain handling organizations.

RAILWAYS PREJUDICED
By missing the deadline, Manitoba and Alberta are causing "prejudice of a substantial amount" to the railways, Mr. Sinclair said.

The railways are caught in a tricky position—their freight rates are frozen until the royal commission reports, probably not until sometime next year, while a strike vote is being held that could lead to a nation-wide railway strike later this year.

for continuation of the UN efforts in the Congo. The representative of the Soviet Union has made it clear that the Soviet Union does not. And that is the issue."

PROBE

Commission will be asked to make interim reports on its examination with a final report in two years.

The commission will study all federal departments, Crown corporations, government agencies and boards.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will make an announcement Saturday morning on a commission on Canadian publications, which he had expected also to announce today.

POWER COMPANY HEAD

Mr. Glasco is a chartered accountant and executive vice-president and director of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited. He is 55.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the commission is charged with "tremendous responsibilities" to propose those changes in government operations that it considers will promote efficiency, economy and improved service in the dispatch of public business.

Purpose of the study will be to eliminate duplication and overlapping of services, to get rid of unnecessary and uneconomical operations, to promote efficiency and economy through decentralization of operations and administration, to improve departmental and agency management including methods of work and definitions of the extent of authority, and to make more effective use of budgeting and accounting procedures.

IMMEDIATE START

In addition, the purpose will be to improve efficiency and economy by altering relations between the government departments and agencies on one hand and treasury board and other central control and service agencies.

Treasury board is a committee of senior cabinet ministers and civil service officials which examines proposed expenditures before parliament is asked for the money to undertake the work.

He said he expects the commission will begin work immediately and appealed to all Canadians, to business and professional organizations and to anyone with ideas of achieving the objects of the inquiry to prepare written submissions for the commission.

The prime minister stressed that the commission's powers do not extend to parliament. This provision is written into its terms of reference, set out in an order in council passed by the cabinet today.

CHEK

Mr. Drake said the station had been put to the trouble and expense of three hearings since its application for an increase in power last January and had suffered damage in its business as a result.

"The loose talk which would, if proof were available, give us a cause of action, was the cause of these alarms and excursions and has at last been shown, under oath, to have been like the report of Mark Twain's death—greatly exaggerated."

Mr. Drake asked that the persons who made the complaints be brought before the board to testify.

William Pearson, commission counsel, said the complaints the board received were based on hearsay evidence, not on personal knowledge.

"For this reason we have not produced the persons who made the complaints to the board," he said.

Mr. Drake: "It leaves us up in the air. We'd like to know who is spreading rumors about us. In the public eye we are on trial although you and I know, Mr. Chairman, that is not the case."

Dr. J. M. Stewart said the board was satisfied that the persons who made the complaints had no evidence against CHEK and he saw no point in calling them before the board.

B.C. Drowning

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A fisherman was believed drowned today when he fell from a boat in the choppy waters of Kamloops Lake near Copper Creek, 17 miles west of here. Police and skin divers were attempting to locate the body of the man, whose identity was not released.

Atlin Win Sparks New CCF Hopes

Victory assured in northern Atlin, the CCF today set sights on winning three more seats in final counts next week to clean up B.C.'s election results.

The CCF now has 16 seats, Social Credit 32, Liberals 4. Frank Calder, 45, became the only Indian member of the legislature today as returns from four late polls in Atlin gave him an 84-vote edge over Social Credit William Asseltine.

Mr. Calder, who lost the seat to Mr. Asseltine in 1956, got a total of 334 votes; Mr. Asseltine 250; Conservative Charles J. Brown 119.

ONLY 11 VOTERS

One poll to come, at Ford's Cove, has only 11 registered voters.

Now the CCF is eyeing Nanaimo, Comox and Tse, where on the basis of the uncounted absentee vote alone, their candidates have a chance of overtaking slim Social Credit leads.

If the absentee votes—to be counted Sept. 24—don't clear the picture, recounts are expected.

In Comox more than 1,000 absentee votes are possible.

Social Creditor Dan Campbell has a lead of 116, with 5,801 votes to 5,685 for CCFer Fred Wood.

In the 1956 election a total of 1,122 absentee votes appeared at the tail end of the counting. A similar total this year would throw the race wide open.

LEAD OF 112

In Nanaimo, Recreation Minister Earle Westwood has a 112 lead. He got 4,475 votes to 4,363 for Colin Cameron of the CCF. In 1956 there were 318 absentee votes. It's estimated there will be 500 this year.

Both these ridings are heavily populated with fishermen and loggers, and trends in Monday's polling showed their communities favored the CCF.

Yale is the closest contest. With all polls in Social Creditor Irvine Corbett, a member of the last legislature, has a lead of only 37 votes.

He's got 1,086 to 1,049 for CCFer Evan McDougall. Liberal John Collett isn't far behind with 945.

In 1956 there were 270 absentee votes.

In Atlin, Calder picked up his biggest gain from the Indian village of Aiyansh, where he got all 72 votes. He also won all five votes cast in Canyon City.

Meanwhile, there is no word on how the vote went at the railway whistle-stop of Bennett.

CASTRO SEIZES CIGAR WORKS

HAVANA (Reuters)—The government Thursday night seized control of the rich tobacco industry, including the world-famous Cuban cigar factories.

The Fidel Castro regime "intervened" in 16 cigar factories, 14 cigar factories and 23 leaf tobacco trading firms.
